2427 Vikings hold hope for better life by world events

☐ Buoyant hope for a better life found differing bases during '80-'81 when Voyager 1 thrust mankind's curiosity 900+ million miles into space and 52 US hostages returned from 444 days in Iranian captivity. . . . However, assassination of John Lennon and constant attention to homework and tests impressed sobering reality upon 2427 PHS students-including 364 at Great Oaks campuses-in their year of anticipated ascension, '80-'81.

Getting out his harmonica (Right, 1), Elwood Blues (Don Fine) finds assistance from Jake Blues (Chris Young) as Steve Johnson and Jim Haines play "Soul Man" during the PHS-Moeller game, Oct. 31.
Holding his goalie's stick (Right, 2), Jim Craig of North Adams, Mass., also grasps the United States flag, moments after the U.S. team defeats Finland, 4-2, to claim the hockey gold medal at Lake Placid, N.Y., in Feb. 1980.
One of the 52 American ex-hostages (Right, 3) shouts and raises his arms as he gets off an Air Force DC-9 medical plane at the Frankfurt Air Force Base on Jan. 21, 1981, shortly after he and the other hostages arrive there from Algiers, their first stop to freedom after 444 days in Iran.
Attentative to fine details (Opposite Page, 5), senior Diane Story, member of the Mime Troop, applies her make-up before the group picture on Dec. 23.
Concentrating (Opposite Page, 6), senior Hun Seng Chao takes the TASK test on Wed., Oct. 1 in the PHS cafeteria.
Former Beatle John Lennon (Opposite Page, 7) speaking at a peace rally in New York in 1972 with wife Yoko Ono next to him, was shot to death outside his apartment in New York on Mon. Dec. 9, by a disappointed fan of the famous star.

Academics

☐ Academics-the main focus of learning at PHS-provided more than 200 courses offered to students in 1980-1981, ranging from orchestration to practical experimentation. . . . As PHS students labored to become "Vikes of all trades", they completed assignments, prepared for tests, and established grounds for life after school.

Hard at work with figures and facts (Opposite Page, 1), sophomores Susan Ricks and Alisha Rinfrow study Biology on Fri., Oct 24.
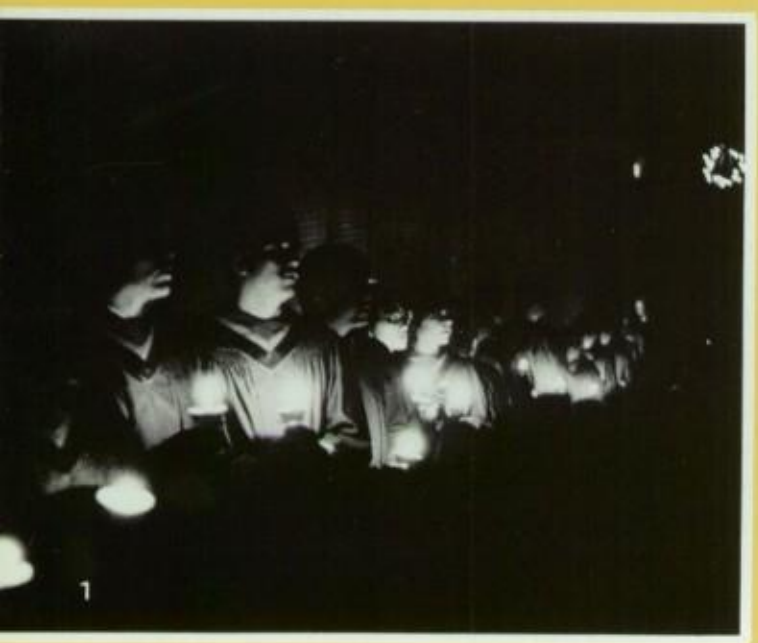
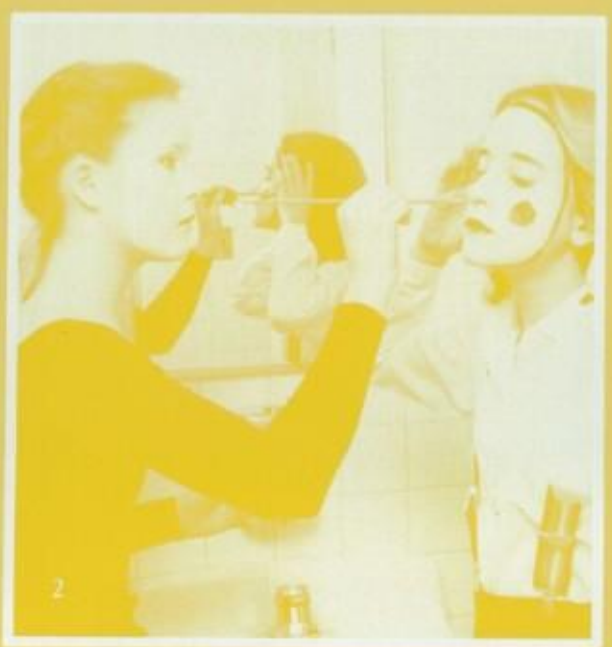
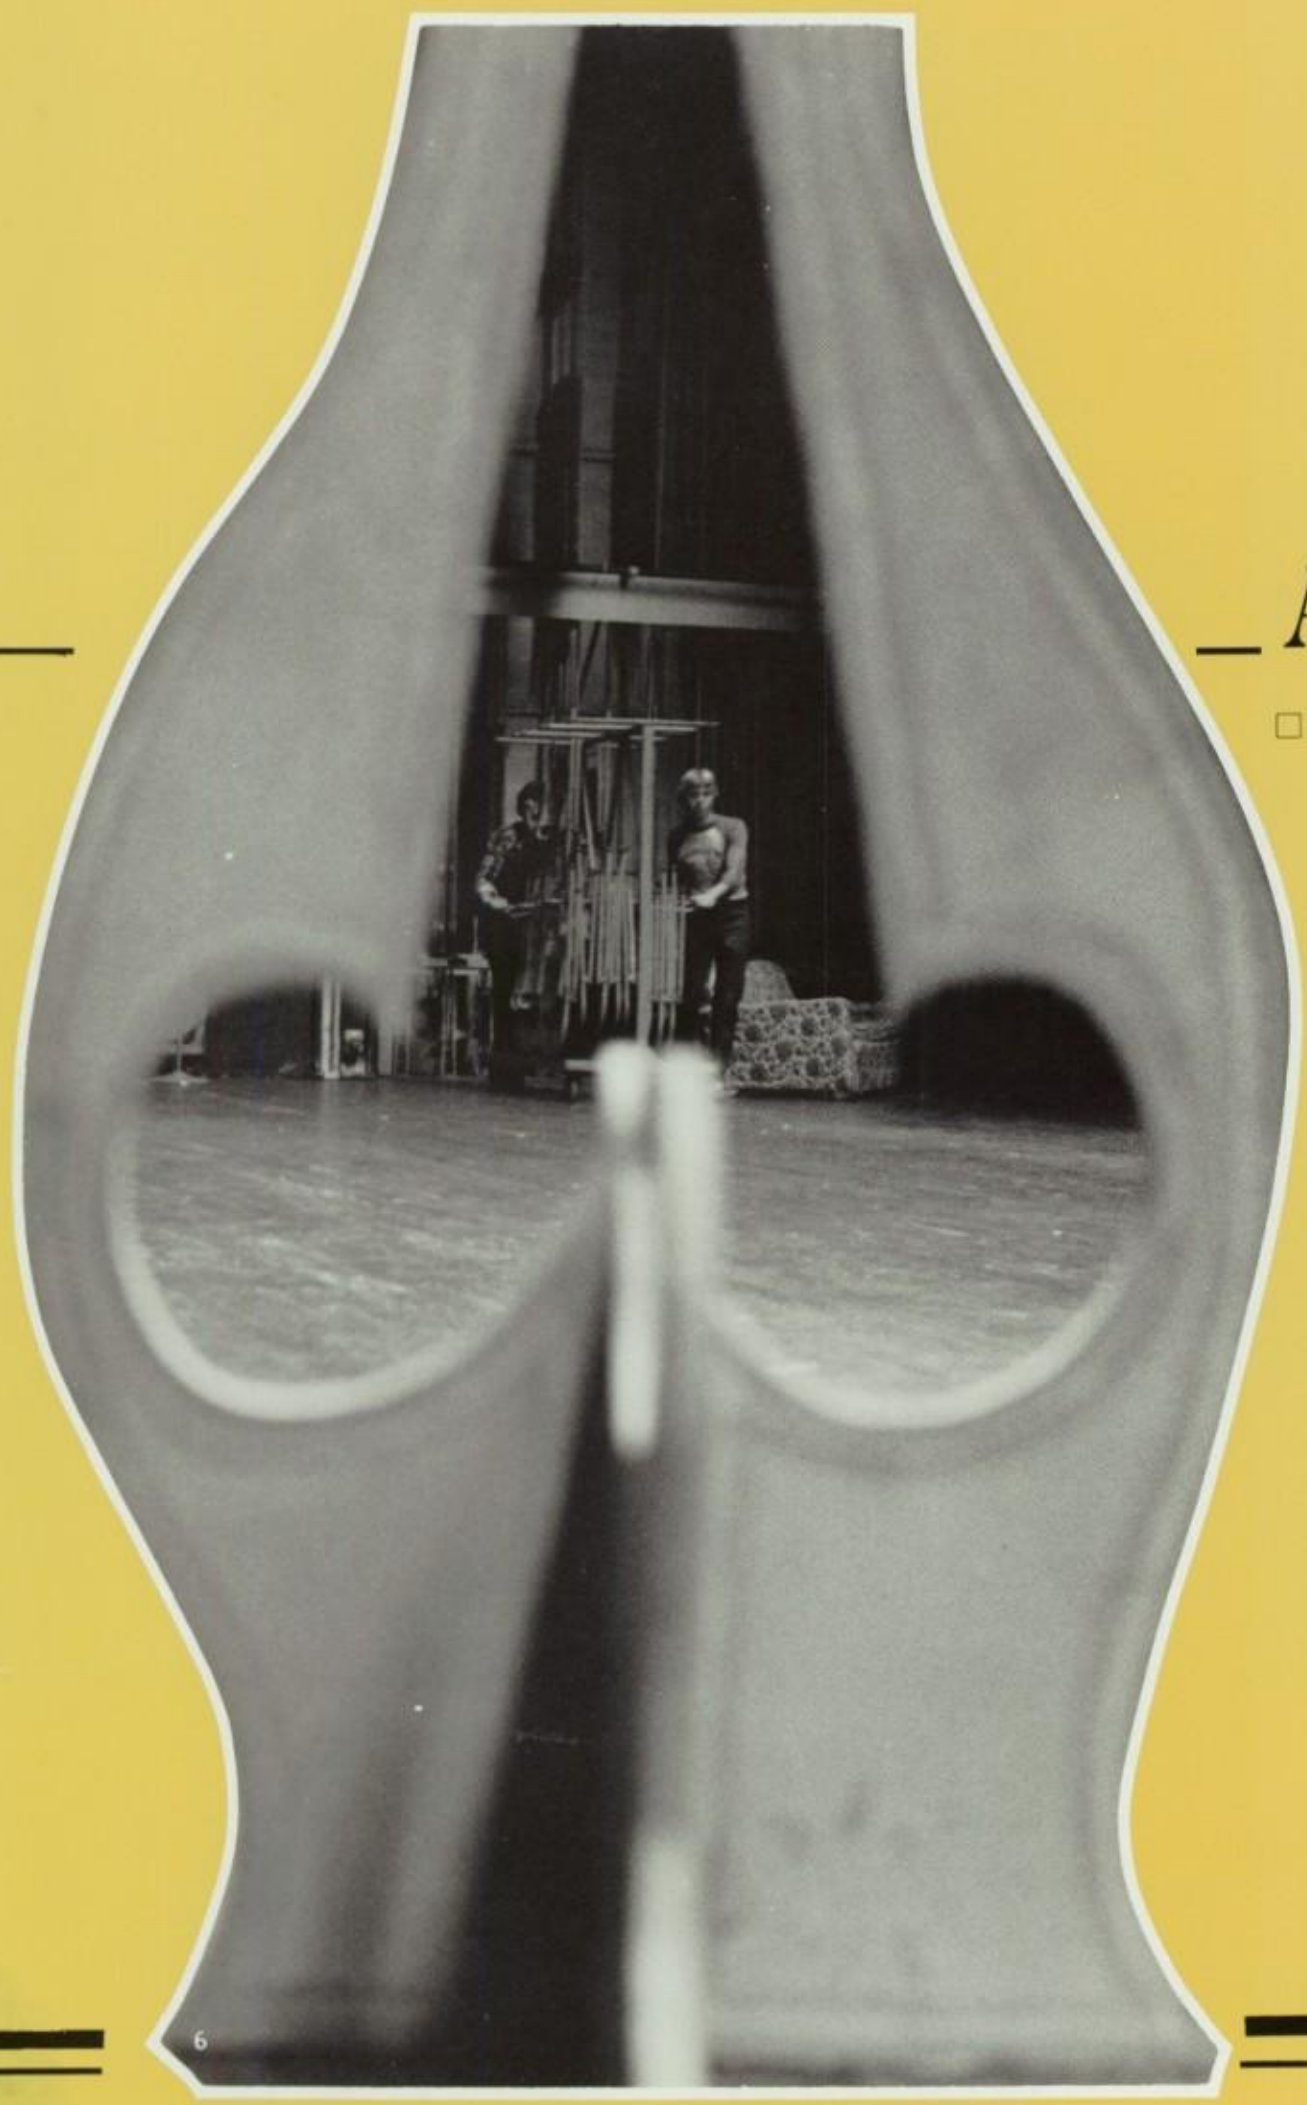
Showing talent and skill (Above, 4) sophomore Holley Meriman paints a master piece during Fine Arts 1 on Fri., Oct. 24.
With nimble fingers and a sharp eye (Above, 5), sophomore Martina Sloan sews her class project on Fri., Oct. 24.
The natural surroundings at Hocking Hills State Park (Left, 6) set the scene for a Sun, Oct. 12, Biology II field trip by Mr. Hayward Ball and students.







ACTIVITIES

☐ With personal opportunities in abundance, PHS students were encouraged to take part in many varied extracurricular activities during 1980-1981. . . . With 80+ possible avenues of exploration, Vikings' insight and knowledge were uplifted as 15 clubs, 13 music, service, and spirit organizations, 42 sports, and 5 honor societies made life's goals a little more clear.

Members of the A Cappella Choir (Opposite Page, 1) stand in the silence of the candlelight procession during the annual Christmas Choral Concert on Mon., Dec. 22, in Matthews Auditorium.

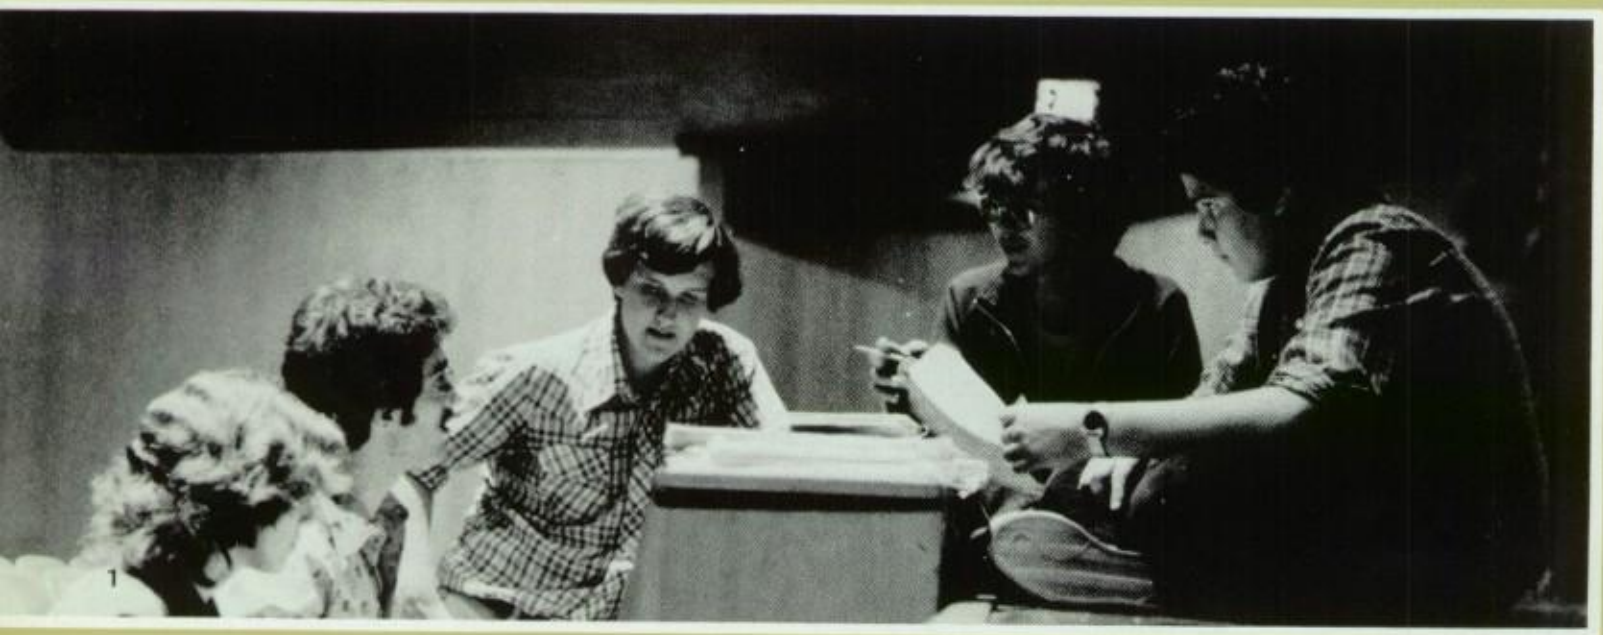
As seen through a pillar (Left, 6), members of the Wizard of Oz stage crew, Kevin Luginbill and Jerry Wolf, move a rack of chairs across the stage in preparation for play rehearsal on Wed., Oct. 8.

Preparation

Many awards and honors befell PHS students for their achievements and accomplishments throughout 1980-1981. All of these required many hours and even days of hard-working preparation. . . . Athletic teams, service organizations, forensic groups, and music organizations, as well as individual students, put their best effort into performances during the year.



Members of Marching Band (Above, 1) practice in the heat on Mon., Aug. 18, under the direction of Mr. Cheeseborough.

Jumbles of instruments (Above, 4) lie on the band practice field in mid-morning during the first day of band camp, Mon., Aug. 18.

SPORTS

☐ Athletics-an important source of school pride and spirit-involved students of many different backgrounds and talents. In addition, they offered a source of exchange with students from other schools also with different and varying backgrounds and talents during 1980-1981.

. . . PHS provided many teams for different interests and skills. Gauged for true competition, these teams included 20 varsity, 14 reserve, and 8 sophomore or freshman squads.

Going for the score (Right, 1), freshman Jennifer Stone jumps toward the basket on Thurs., Jan. 8, as the PHS girls reserve basketball team falls to Fairfield, 23-36.
Going for the block (Opposite Page, 2), two-year veteran Karen Kelly attempts to prevent a spike by a Garfield player during the game here on Mon., Sept. 29, as the girls win 2-0.
Preparing for a score (Opposite Page, 3), senior Bob Webster protects the ball from St. X players on Thurs., Oct. 16, in a game that concluded with an 8-5 win in overtime.
Heading (Opposite Page, 4), soph Brent Olson maintains control of the ball as goalie Glen Haley, junior, looks on at the Centerville game that concluded with a 1-2 loss.
Releasing the ball (Opposite Page, 5), senior Robert Ulliman (7) passes to an unseen receiver as Moeller defender Ron Davis (66) watches the action of the play during the second quarter of the Princeton-Moeller game on Fri., Nov. 7.

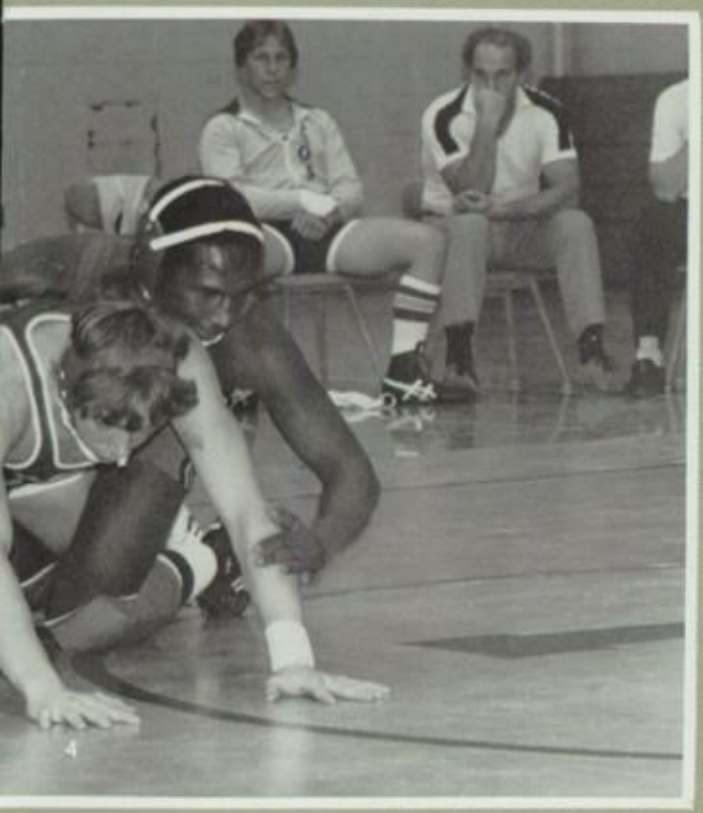
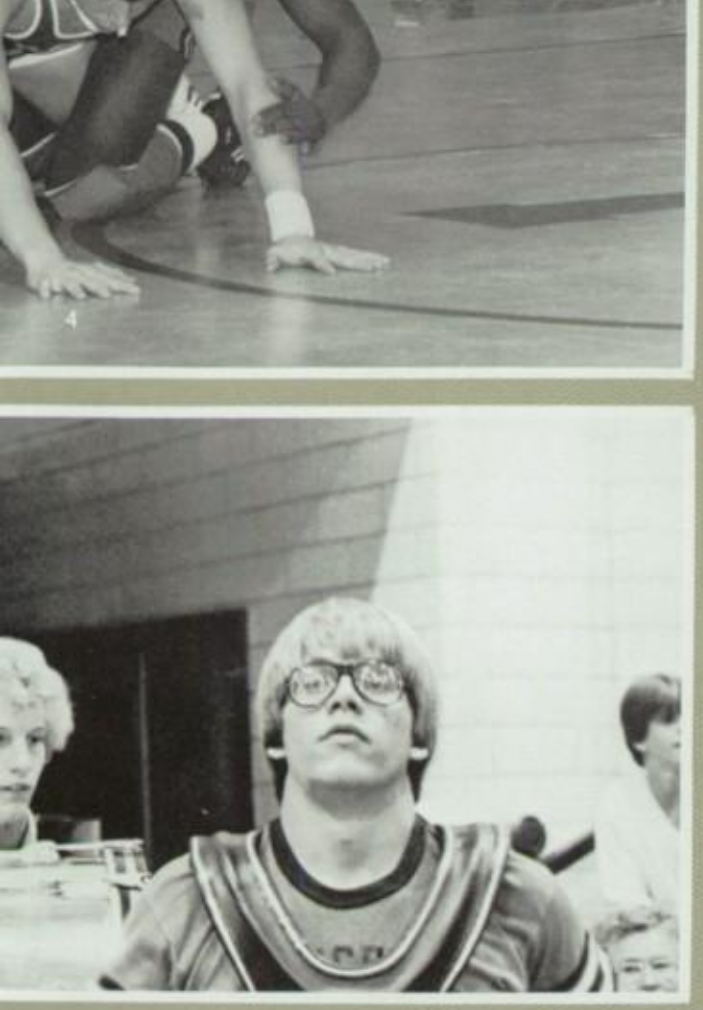
EMOTION





☐ The pressures of school life, as well as its pleasures, gripped all Vikings when they shared emotions with friends and foes, young and old alike in 1980-1981.

. . . From feelings of frustration because of constant work, to the thrill of Viking victories in fall, emotions helped fashion the memories of the most important experiences in high school years.

Portraying their feelings through grave faces (Opposite Page, 2), varsity football players Steve Phelps and Rob Leach are disgusted with the 28-3 outcome of the Princeton Viking-Moeller Crusaders game, during quarter finals at Nippert Stadium on Fri., Nov. 7.

Dodging a cold spray of water (Circle, 3) outside the cafeteria, seniors Darcie Bucklin, Sue Baily, Brenda Smith, Vicki Cambell, Eric Leonard are the victims in "Bust a Senior Balloon Toss" on Wed., Sept. 24

Going for a pin (Left, 4), junior Andre Davis works to outmaneuver his Scott High School opponent on Dec. 6 as the visitors fall to Princeton, 39-31.

Swirling flags (Right, 2), catch the eyes when members of the flag corps practice on Fri., Oct 24, for upcoming events.

Chopping through the crowd (Opposite Page, 3), senior Ken Culpin portrays the "mighty" Princeton Viking during the Princeton-Moeller game at Nippert Stadium on Fri., Nov. 7.

Spotlighted (Opposite Page, 4), senior Jeff Shivar sharpens his piano playing skills as he practices on Tues., Oct. 21, in Matthews Auditorium for the Wizard of Oz.

Shimmering costumes (Opposite Page, 5) highlight the majorettes, whose talented members include seniors Rachel Friend, Susan Lazenby, Kathy Shelton, Alyson Squires, Sheryl Lazenby, and Tonya Stanley during the United Appeal kickoff on Tues., Sept. 16, at Fountain Square Plaza.

Plowing into dummies (Opposite Page, 6), the reserve football team puts in a rough day of practice on Tues., Aug. 19.

Clarity of sound (Below, 1) describes the effort of Handbell Choir members Becky Lewis and Shawn Anderson as they perform in Springdale Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. on Wed., Dec. 17.

Student Life

□ A reflection of the students at Princeton, of their hopes, desires, aspirations, and inevitably, of their defeats -but more importantly, a reflection of that ability which Princeton students possess above any other-of being able to preserve that delicate balance between work and play-as these students make themselves and others proud to portray a role in the story of ascension.

Roller Coaster

Brief victories bow before turmoil while world lives tortuous drama

☐ 1980-1981 brought brief victories overshadowed by heavy turmoil. Although Americans won gold in Lake Placid, the backdrop of the tortuous drama of citizens held hostage in Iran was on hand, while the year provided varied surprises.

. . . The year was like an unenjoyable roller coaster ride. Three times Americans thought they could glimpse the hostages waving as they stepped onto American soil; three times the vision proved a mirage. While Camp David appeared a high road to peace in the Mideast, Russia's drive into Afghanistan, shouldered with classic guerilla resistance, was seen as the greatest threat since WW II.

. . . Domestically, the economy dipped in a recession that passed so quickly it failed to deliver relief from rampant inflation of past years. In response, interest rates soared and Americans took to small cars, as Chrysler Corp. had to plead for government bailout to survive.

. . . American diplomatic strength appeared to be its ability to avert disasters when the U.S. avoided any commitment to Poles in the event they should find it necessary to fight for their freedom, while maintaining a strict policy of neutrality in the Persian Gulf War.

. . . Frustration bogged down many of the world's countries. In Eastern Europe, a fiery shipyard worker Lech Walesa defied the Soviets in organizing union activities.

. . . Americans, frustrated with the economy and decreasing U.S. strength, elected Ronald Reagan in a landslide victory while turning the Senate majority in a GOP direction- a first after 26 years.

. . . Calamities also struck when after two months warning, the spectacular eruption of Mt. St. Helen's killed 34 and a tragic Italian earthquake was made worse by a ghoulish black market in coffins and orphans. Riots occurred in South Africa; revolution overcame El Salvador, and brutal coups occurred in Bolivia, Korea, Liberia.

. . . Although the year was marked by great strife, a few shining moments broke through-the return of six Americans smuggled home by Canada's brave and clever Ambassador Kenneth Taylor and speed skater Eric Heiden's five gold medals at Winter Games in Lake Placid, while an amazing American hockey team defeated the Russians.

The charred helmet of a U.S. serviceman (Opposite Page, 3) lies in the desert sands of Eastern Iran at the spot where a daring attempt to rescue the American hostages came to a tragic end in April, 1980, as a burned out helicopter used in the mission marks the site of the death of eight American military persons.

Polish workers (Opposite Page, 4) sit under a poster showing Soviet and Polish flags at the Lenin shipyard in Gdansk during August as these men and their associates strike for new liberties and win their struggle with the communist government.

A lone man (Opposite Page, 5) walks amid destroyed buildings in the village of Balvano in late November after Southern Italy is struck by a devastating earthquake that killed 3,076 persons and left 200,000 homeless as winter approached.

The ocean-going tug "Dr. Daniels" (Opposite Page, 6) heads into Truman Annex Pier at Key West Fla., in May 1980, carrying 700 to 900 persons, one of the largest groups of Cuban refugees to reach the United States in the "Freedom Flotilla."

For perspective

Change, conflict characterize life as Vikings look to world outside

☐ National and local events also established perspective to grasp the impact of the world beyond PHS upon students' lives in '80-'81.

. . . Vikings expected change after Ronald Reagan defeated Jimmy Carter-483 electoral votes to 49- in November, promising to "get big government off people's backs".

. . . Locally, varied changes came when crowd-control laws took effect at the Coliseum, following 11 deaths during "The Who" concert there on Dec. 3, 1979; and the Cincinnati Union Terminal reopened as a shopping mall on August 4 amid hoopla and fireworks.

. . . Conflict, too, was a part of local life when James Hoskins held off police for 12 hours at WCPO-TV before killing himself on Oct. 15; 50 Mariemont teachers were fired on Jan. 30 arter a 5-day strike as controversy continued in spring; citizens joined police in search for the murder of teen-age cousins Dante Brown and Darrell Lane on the night of June 8, 1980; and P & G suspended production of Rely amid FDA allegations linking tampons with toxic shock.

. . . After Cincinnati Reds drifted to third, 89-73, and Bengals-under Forest Gregg-knocked heads, 6-10, PHS students were shocked by John Lennon's death, reflecting senior Allison Simpson's words, "It doesn't seem to make any sense to me; the world has suffered a great loss"; but found joy in release of 52 hostages on Jan 20, typified by junior Barb Hennel, "I was impressed at the spirit shown by Americans, such as the use of yellow ribbons."

. . . Meanwhile, students reached out to communities as Marching Band helped in the United Appeal kick-off downtown on Oct. 20 and the Lincoln Heights HUD mortgage burning, Oct. 20, while Wizard of Oz cast greeted parents at the Oct: 14 open house, and juniors sent cards to the aged.

Starbursts (Opposite Page, 1) pierce the darkness when an estimated 1,000 devoted fans of John Lennon honor the assassinated rock star during a memorial tribute to him on Fountain Square after his death on December 8.

Ash, smoke (Opposite Page, 2) and millions of tons of Mount St. Helens are hurled skyward as the volcano erupts with atomic bomb force on May 18, 1980.

Under the direction of Mr. Sam Reynolds (Opposite Page, 3), the Marching 199 perform at Fountain Square on Tues., Sept 16, for the United Appeal Kickoff.

Celebrities (Opposite Page, 4) who participate in burning of HUD mortgage in Lincoln Heights on Oct. 20 include Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, Mayor Herman Dantzler, Congressman Thomas Luken, Senator Howard Metzenbaum, Congressman Willis Gradison, while PHS Marching Band provides music for the civic occasion.

Highlighted (Opposite Page, 5) by spotlight, actors from the Wizard of Oz perform a segment of the children's play for parents from the Princeton community during the school's Parent Faculty Council "open house" at 7:00 p.m. on Tues., Oct. 14.

Smoke (Opposite Page, 6) pours from the casino area of the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas, as fire races through the lower levels of the casino and hotel, killing 84 persons and injuring hundreds on Nov. 21.

President Jimmy Carter (Opposite Page, 7) concedes defeat in address to supporters in a Washington hotel on Tues, Nov. 4.

Philadelphia Phillies relief pitcher (Above Left, 8) Tug McGraw leaps as Kansas City Royals' batter, Willie Wilson, strikes out to end the sixth game and give the Phils their first World Series Championship in the 98-year history of the team.

President-Elect Ronald Regan (Left, 9) and his wife, Nancy, respond as they are cheered by supporters in a Los Angeles hotel after victory is announced on Tues., Nov 4.

Work in Room 108 (Below, 1) occupies time of Odin's Word editors before the end of summer vacation as these students-Merri-Jo Gratch, Terri, Williamson, Ann Hungler, Carey Hoffman,-prepare to paste up printer's copy on Thurs., Aug 21, for the first day of school, Aug. 26.

With a picture of the Viking mascot in hand (Right, 2), Pepsi-Cola artist Rick Gerbardt designs the new Princeton scoreboard on Thurs., Aug 21.

Framed by drums and horns (Below, 3), the 199-member Marching Band strides forward in first practice at 9:45 a.m. on opening day of Band Camp-Mon., Aug 18.

With mud and water up to their ankles (Opposite Page, 4), PHS reserve Vikings practice on Thurs., Aug 21, following heavy showers the night before.

At school

Carefree days come to an end as Vikings hit the dust

☐ Even before carefree days of vacation ended on Tues., Aug 26, dozens of Vikings returned to PHS as athletic squads hit the dust and-following heavy rains-pounded the turf with mud and water up to their ankles in practice sessions as early as Aug 18.

. . . Among others returning to school before the end of vacation, Odin's Word editors clicked their typewriter keys as they began work on Thurs., Aug 14, the year's first issue-Tues., Aug 26.

. . . As band members separated their left feet from their right with the blazing sun overhead during band camp from Aug 18-22, construction continued through opening day while a lobby area was added to the 500-wing gym and a new scoreboard and dressing rooms were installed for coach Pat Mancuso's "Mighty Vikes".

. . . Then the big moment arrived on Tues., Aug 26, when almost 2,100 students walked through PHS doors and once more gathered in the halls with friends to share their summer activities.

Class

'Reunited' joins oriental decor in unusual disco at Homecoming

"Reunited" set the theme for PHS' '80-'81 Homecoming as decorations reflected an oriental setting and the band, Bash, provided soft rock to easy listening.

. . . With an elaborate disco arrangement consisting of a three-foot mirror ball and many blinking lights, a trio of cascading fountains and an oriental setting added a touch of class for 250 couples in the gym on Sat., Oct 4.

. . . Using a different approach to this year's Homecoming, members of the court were escorted onto the field at half-time in a variety of luxury cars during the Vikes' crushing 27-7 victory over the Roger Bacon Spartans here on Fri., Oct. 3.

Spotlighted (Left, 10), the soft rock band Bash keeps the crowd (Opposite Page 5) dancing on the gymnasium floor on Sat., Oct. 4.

Creative!

'Wizard of Oz' presents old tale in refreshing way during October

☐ Princeton's Wizard of Oz was a very old tale told in a very refreshing way during 1980 through the Children's Theatre for approximately 3200 elementary school students on Oct. 23 & 24 and the general public on Oct. 25 & 26. . . . Talents of PHS students received distinctive expression due to creativeness of seniors Jeff Shivar and Chris Young, who composed all original music, and the ingenuity of soph Tracey Cook, choreographer. . . . The play, directed by Mr. Joe Phillips, incorporated talents of 22 cast and 44 crew members.

Dorothy (Opposite Page, 3) confronts the Wicked Witch of the West (Betsy Price) after discovering the price for her to be sent home is to kill the witch.

Spirit!

Sparks fly, trumpets blare as Vikings look to 'Moe'

☐ Sparks flew and trumpets blared as visible signs of PHS spirit during cool days in fall as Viking gridmen looked ahead to season-ending confrontation with Moeller Crusaders here on Fri., Oct. 31. Prior to the game-on Oct. 29-seniors showed spirit during the senior bonfire, and on Fri., Oct. 31, a school-wide rally was held. . . . Although PHS Lost, 14-13, spirit remained high as Vikes prepared to face Moe again. This time the faculty hosted a rally in Matthews Auditorium before PHS lost to Moeller, 28-3, at U.C. on Fri., Nov. 7.

Leading in a Viking cheer (Right, 1), senior Ken Culpin-dressed as the Mighty Viking mascot-and members of the varsity cheerleading squad lead the enthusiastic Princeton fans at the Princeton-Moeller play-off game held at Nippert Stadium on Fri., Nov. 7.

With high spirits and hope (Opposite Page, 2), members of the PHS Pep Band help set the mood at the Princeton-Moeller pep rally put on by the faculty in Matthews Auditorium on Fri., Nov. 7.

Clapping along in time (Opposite Page, 3), varsity cheerleaders help get the crowd ready for the pep rally held on Fri., Nov. 7, in Matthews Auditorium.

School groups raise dollars by flea market, staff musical ☐ Funds necessary for successful operation of organizations at PHS were raised in many ways during the 1980-1981 school year as a play, a flea market and sales were used by various groups.

. . . The second annual flea market proved a success despite light turnout on Sat., Oct 11, when teachers, students, and community donated salable items, while residents looking for bargains in antiques, clothing, and toys provided $300.00 profit for senior/junior treasuries.

. . . Later in fall, the seventh annual staff musical, Once Upon a Mattress this year, raised $2,000 for senior scholarships through performances for the public on Nov. 20, 21, 22 and students on Nov. 18.

. . . With a newly enforced policy prohibiting sale of candy during the day, various clubs suffered "hundreds of dollars" in losses this year, according to sponsors.

. . . Using a new approach to raise money, clubs resorted to selling programs and refreshments at home basketball games- at an average profit between $75.00-$100.00 per game- in an effort suggested to them by Mr. Jay Sroufe, Princeton student activities director.

Old/new

Traditions become a part of Christmas at Princeton

☐ PHS students celebrated Christmas in a variety of ways when they resumed some old traditions, continued others, and began several others.

. . . An old tradition that was resumed this year was the sponsoring of a Christmas tree by Student Council after a few-year lapse.

. . . Continuing with tradition, PHS held its biannual Messiah Concert on Sun., Dec 7, and the Christmas Choral Concert on Mon., Dec. 22, in Matthews Auditorium.

. . . Other traditions continued this year were the annual Vikette Carnation Sale on Tues., Dec. 23, which netted the Vikettes $197.35.

. . . Michelangelo Society helped local businesses to decorate by painting windows during the early weeks of December.

. . . The City of Cincinnati also continued some old traditions with the annual decoration and lighting of Fountain Square.

. . . Some new approaches this year were taping the Christmas Choral Concert by Warner Cable Television for re-broadcast throughout the city. Another was addition of Mr. Al Watson to the list of usual Christmas elves, as he showed a flare of originality on Tues., Dec. 23.

Preppy

Casual clothing adds class, variety to halls at Princeton

☐ Reflecting preppy, conservative, and casual looks, students began the year with Izods and topsiders while penny loafers and Jordache jeans took over at mid-year. . . . Meanwhile, as a change of pace, 50's clothing-both A.D. and B.C.-and Halloween offered variety in what junior Denise McDowell called "a year of expensive designer clothes".

Fashion of the '80-'81 school year is (Above, 1) the ultimate in preppy, as senior Rhonda Engle and Debbie Marsh exemplify.

15 'Superiors' rank Princeton as top school in science fair

☐ Princeton High School biology, chemistry, and physics students combined their effort to win the school's third consecutive plaque for the highest number of "Superior" exhibits at the Southwestern Ohio Science Fair held at Miami University. Princeton Students received 15 "Superior" ratings compared with the seven awarded to the second-place school on Sat., March 28. . . .In special awards, the project of Ron Joines was named first place in chemistry, while DeAnna Jones' project won the Cincinnati Zoo Award and a special award in environmental science. Another PHS student, junior Cheryl Thielmeyer, also won the Cincinnati Zoo Award and the Aerospace Support Award. Other participants who received recognition with a rating of "Excellent" were seniors Brian McGill, and Lisa Desai, and junior Amy Burris in physics, along with seniors Britt Arulf, Brian Cook, Jeff Rodriguez, Mike Steckler, Bill Weis, and Harold Hamilton. . . . In State competition PHS had two "Superior" ratings won by Diane Ishida and Cheryl Thielmeyer. Others winning a rating of "Excellent" were senior DeAnna Jones in Biology. Ron Joines, Teri Handorf, Harold Hamilton, Ron Pauldine, Jerry Stone in chemistry, and Keith Carney in physics.

Unique

Audience members become jurors in 'The Night of January 16th'

☐With an unique approach to the theatre setting, members of the cast and crew of The Night of January 16th, under the direction of Mr. David McClung, brought the audience directly into the actual functioning and results of the play.

. . . At the start of the play, 12 members of the audience were chosen to serve as the jurors in the trial of Miss Karen Andre.

. . . The jury heard testimony, as did the rest of the audience, throughout both acts. They then had deliberations and returned a verdict. Each performance was a new trial, with the same witnesses, testimony, and evidence; yet during the six performances, 1 guilty and 5 innocent verdicts were returned.

. . . As an experiment and test of the district's new Instructional Television Center's capabilities, under the direction of Mr. Stan Everett, the play was videotaped from beginning through closing arguments, with a closing statement by Mr. McClung, director.

64% of seniors work part-time, according to cooperative survey

☐ In a cooperative study for the yearbook conducted by Mr. Tim Dugan's 2 sociology classes, a survey of 130 sophs, 133 juniors, and 128 seniors found that 21% sophs, 43% juniors, and 64% of those seniors surveyed were currently working in February.

. . . Reasons given for working were: 60%-extra money; 35%-college; 13%-dating; and 11%-like to work.

. . . Hours ranged from 21% with 25+ hours, to 16% with 1 to 9 hours/wk.

Announcements, cards, contest explore aspects of brotherhood

☐ While Brotherhood Week was celebrated from January 20-23 with fewer events than in some years of the past-absent, for example, were an evening dinner and food sampling at a nominal price, sponsored by the Home Economics Club in the main lobby at noon-various programs reinforced understanding of other people.

. . . Students speaking briefly on brotherhood over the PA during morning announcements included Linda Speidel and Mike Lindsay on Tuesday; Jimmy Phelps and Michelle Elder, Wednesday; Tracy Kidd and Vince Collopy, Thursday; and Kenny Lawson and Darcie Bucklin, Friday.

. . . In a project continued from previous years, Student Council provided 4¼" x 2¼" name cards with the message, "Hi! My name is _____. Isn't it a shame that we haven't become friends?"; and the English Department sponsored a poetry/essay contest, in which 10 poems and 25 essays on "Freedom" were submitted.

. . . Winner of the poetry contest, Angie Eicher, concluded her lyric verse with the thoughts:

"But when the bullets rip out
And the bodies start to fall,
The trying seems so useless;
Will we ever be free?
We pick up our old slogans
And start the chants again;
It's a never-ending struggle;
We're trying to be free."

. . . In an essay, winner Tracy Stone said, "Many of us do not appreciate this freedom as we should because we do not know what it is like to be without the freedom we take for granted here."

Sharing grief (Above, 1) over deaths of children in Atlanta, senior co-editor Courtney Thomas wears a green ribbon in sympathy as she works on her deadline in Room 108 early in March.

By donations

Princeton students and staff share in grief over Atlanta children

☐ For almost two years, people of Atlanta have been experienceing fear and sheer horror.

During the period of July, 1979, to April 20, 1981, 24 murders, and one missing person were recorded.

Atlanta has had to deal with a string of child murders happening in the black suburban sections ot the city.

. . . For the moment, blacks who were either poor or barely financially stable were experiencing a severe emotional depression, in which children were being hit the hardest. Increased truancy and nightmares were reactions to the situation. People were afraid of one whom they called "The Man". Outside the safety of their home, they realized that they were live bait and carried any weapon that they could get their hands on for self defense.

. . . Public Safety Commissioner Lee Brown conceded that one common threat connecting all 25 slayings and disappearances was a "strong need and desire for money by these children."

. . . It had been acknowledged that 8 or 9 cases were connected, such as those involving youths who were strangled. The killer was described as a male with female tendencies who was able to be gentle at first and then deadly.

. . . Celebrities and public figures have contributed to the cause by staging benefit shows, marches through cities, and donations; and the students and staff members at PHS pitched in to help the investigation by contributing $250 through voluntary donations in April.

. . . Freshman Alex Higdon stated, "I think that students and staff should be commended in their effort to help others, and I think this showed much kindness toward mankind."

Shocked

Shots ring out as President leaves Hilton in Washington

☐ On Monday, March 30, early in the afternoon as President Reagan, several of his aides, and Secret Service agents exited through the VIP doors at the Washington Hilton Hotel, an assassin emerged from the crowd and fired six shots from a .22 caliber hand gun in rapid succession.

. . . In the assassination attempt, President Reagan — with White House Press Secretary James S. Brady, Secret Service agent Timothy J. McCarthy, and District of Columbia police officer Thomas Delahanty — was seriously wounded.

. . . Reagan suffered from a single bullet that entered his chest, ricocheted off his seventh rib, and penetrated three inches into the lower left lobe of his lung, ending only a shade from his heart.

. . . Known for his affability and sense of humor, 40-year-old Press Secretary Brady was critically injured when he received a bullet wound to the head.

. . . Secret Service Agent McCarthy, 33, was said to be in excellent condition after suffering a bullet would to the liver.

. . . Vice President Bush cut short his trip to take charge of the crisis, but power of the Presidency never left Mr. Reagan.

. . . Alleged assassin John Hinckley Jr., 25, Colorado, was apprehended immediately after the shooting.

. . . Senior DeAnna Jones commented, "I was shocked to think that someone would be ignorant enough to shoot the President and expect to get away with it."

Fantastic

Variety show presents 31 acts to capacity crowd for 4+ hours

☐ Eighty-five PHS students in 31 acts entertained a capacity house of 1000 people — as 400-500 were turned away, according to Dr. Charles Atkinson, senior class ass't. prin. — when the Class of 1981 sponsored "the first-in-a-long-time" spring variety show in Matthews Auditorium.

. . . The 7:15 to 11:30 p.m. event on Fri., April 24, was "such a fantastic success" in raising $1,100 for the seniors it's been scheduled for two nights in October, Dr. Atkinson said.

In a romantic mood (Opposite Page, 3), George Green and Celeste Beckam sing "With You, I'm Born Again".

Precious and Few sets theme as 200 couples dance at Prom

☐ After many hours of preparation, some 200 couples anxiously awaited the opening of the Reef Ballroom at the Marriott Inn on Chester Road as the 1980-1981 Prom got underway at 7:30 p.m. on Sat., April 25.

. . . As couples entered the ballroom, they were seated at elegant candle-lit tables, garnished with beautiful floral arrangements. Then at 8:00 p.m., students and their dates were served a five-course meal consisting of a fresh fruit cup, tossed salad, sliced Round of Beef Bordelaise, vegetables, and chocolate sundae.

. . . As 9:00 p.m. rolled around, students kicked their heels to the sound of Full House.

. . . Theme for the Junior/ Senior Prom was significant — "Precious and Few".

Change

'South Pacific' combines stories for delayed show from May 14-17

☐ Set in the islands of the South Pacific, the PHS spring musical opened to a combination of stories.

. . . A Frenchman, Emile de Becque (Jeff Clarke), fell in love with a navy nurse, Nellie Forbush (Peggy Burke). Lt. Joe Cable (Bob Webster) came to the island to secure help from de Becque for a coast watch on some enemy-held islands.

. . . De Becque refused so Cable took Luther Billis (Wes Lower) up on his offer to go to the nearby island of Bali-Ha'i. Here, Cable was introduced by Bloody Mary (Laura Bates) to Liat (Betsy Baughman), and fell in love with her.

. . . Nellie later decided to leave Emile, so he and Cable set out for the enemy island. They returned valuable information, but Cable was killed during the mission. Emile was rescued and returned to his plantation to find Nellie there waiting for him.

. . . The play involved some 85 actors, 35 orchestra members, and 50 crew members.

. . . The musical, originally Finian's Rainbow, was changed to South Pacific, when Mr. Richard Jackson took over as director.

. . . Due to the change, the play had to be moved back two weeks from its original date to allow for the extra work to be completed — to May 15-17, with a student performance on May 14.

Singing Bali-Ha'i (Left, 6), Bloody Mary (Laura Bates) tries to convince Lt. Joe Cable (Bob Webster) to go to the island and enjoy its many wonders.

Meeting for the first time (Opposite Page, 1), Nellie (Peggy Burke) is introduced by Emile (Jeff Clarke) to his two children, Nigana (Nancy Rodriguez) and Jerome (Dewayne Creamer), as Claudette (Debbie Graham) takes them to their rooms after a party at Emile's plantation.

Members of the production (Below, 10) take a break after the curtain call for the rehearsal on Wed., May 13, to have their picture made.

Members of the cast of South Pacific (Left, 8) complete their final rehearsal on Wed., May 13, by a curtain call, before opening the next morning with the student performance.

With a concerned look (Opposite Page, 5), Ensign Nellie Forbush (Peggy Burke) is questioned by Lt. Commander Brackett (Doug Arney) and Lt. Joe Cable (Bob Webster) about the Frenchman she met several weeks before.

Concentrating on their music (Opposite Page, 3), members of the orchestra play under the direction of Mr. Robert Monroe on Wed., May 13.

Members of the make-up and costume crew (Left, 9) sit on the porch after completing the task of costumes and make-up for the entire cast.

District people enjoy Reds' game, as buffalo snack delights Vikes

☐ 1000 district citizens were among the 27,000+ in attendance for the Reds-Dodgers' game at Riverfront Stadium for the 2nd annual Princeton City District Community Night on Fri., May 22.

. . . Even though Reds lost, 4-2, in 12 innings, Princeton people came away happy, as the high school A Cappella Choir and Marching Band units impressed fans from a several-state area with their pre-game rendition of the National Anthem.

. . . The community night was organized with the help of the mayors from each city in the district, in cooperation with the superintendent's office.

. . . Also, as the school year drew to a close, people were eating. In Mr. Dick Hadley's and Mr. Troy Debord's American West classes, some 175 students tasted buffalo meat on Tues., May 26. This was the third year the treat has been sponsored in their classes.

. . . Two days later, on Thurs., May 28, people were eating again, but this time it was the staff, not the students, as the Princeton High School Parent-Faculty Council served a luncheon in appreciation for their work, in what has become an end-of-the-year tradition.

Progress

Festival of Arts displays talents of Princeton students and adults

☐ "Twenty-Five Years of Progress" was the theme of the Princeton School District's 1981 Festival of Arts on Sun., April 5. . . . The festival's purpose was to give students and adults in the community an opportunity to display their creative talents. . . . These talents included art, crafts, industrial art, and music by the various bands, orchestras, and choirs throughout the Princeton City District.

Preparing to play (Left, 5), members of the 8th grade band get ready to perform in the FCL Library on Sun., April 5.

Variety

Soloists, groups employ effects for SWIP in 9th year

☐ "Welcome back, my friends, to The Show That Never Ends" set the title and theme of this year's Student Works in Progress, performed to 2 capacity crowds in the Studio Theatre on Thurs., May 28, and Fri., May 29. . . . The variety-entertainment show, in its ninth annual end-of-the-year production, brought to the stage, many students, showing their talents in seventeen variety acts directed by Jeff Shivar and Chris Young. . . . Individual selections ranged from jazz dances to "52nd Street" and "Everything Old is New Again", to songs by soloists up to barbershop quartets, to the hilarity of 2 mime skits and the comical monologues of "Adaptation" and "The Hair Piece.". . . . A special feature this year was a light show to ELP's "Karn Evil 9 1st Impression", using light organs, running lights, a silhouetted drummer, and a mirror ball. . . . Ending the show, with audience participation, balloons and confetti, was "Jean, the Dancing Machine," played by Pat Stearns.

Singing "On The Willows" (Opposite Page, 3), co-director Chris Young and Jeff Shivar get into their own production with memories of Godspell on Fri., May 29.

With a light above (Opposite Page, 4), seniors Jeff Clarke, Susan McKay, and Tony Owens sing "Walk Down That Lonesome Road" to the SWIP audience on Fri., May 29.

With jovial laughter and good ale (Above, 6), Doug Arney, Dave Bower, and Keith VandeStadt enjoy some good jokes with the SWIP audience with their quartet-version of "Vive La Campagnie" minus their fourth, Tony Jckson, on Fri., May 29, in Studio Theatre.

With piano and sax in the background (Right, 7), Susan McKay sings "Just the Way You Are," to the capacity crowd in Studio Theatre on Fri., May 29, as Debbie Hayden, piano; Damion Cremisio, sax; and Jeff Wilson, not pictured, drums, accompany her.

Well done

Award ceremonies highlight year as students receive recognition

☐ Awards of many types highlighted the end of 1980-1981 as various groups held ceremonies for their members.

. . . Scholastic awards climaxed the year of work for 112 students when the yearly Academic Awards Banquet was held in the cafeteria on Tues., May 26.

. . . Honors ranged from citations for the top ten students in each grade level to recognition for the best student in each subject, while 23 seniors also received Princeton City School District Scholarships in one of three different categories.

. . . Thespian awards on June 1 included Laura Bates, Outstanding Performance; Ted Thacker, Male Lead; Peggy Burke, Best Female Lead; Wes Lower and Betsy Price, Best Support Role; while music winners announced in May were: Wally Darling, John Philip Sousa; Nadine Cummings, Orchestra; Susan McKay and Tony Owens, Chorus; Ron Pauldine, National School Jazz.

Handshake (Above, 1) pays tribute to junior Claude Davis as he receives the Williams Book Award from Mr. Don Davies on behalf of Williams College during the yearly Academic Banquet at 7:00 p.m. in the cafeteria on Tues., May 26.

Congratulations (Opposite Page, 3) come to senior Doug Arney from Mr. Ivan Reynolds, senior counselor, for his outstanding performance in debate throughout his high school days.

As his audience listens (Right, 2), Dr. Charles Atkinson, senior class assistant principal, addresses participants at the Journalism Banquet following 6:30 p.m. dinner in David's Buffet on Mon., May 18.

Trophies and medals (Opposite Page, 4) awarded to publications editors at the Journalism Banquet on May 18 reward year-long effort.

Triumphant exit marks last event in ceremonies for Class of '81

☐ Words of wisdom — coupled with impressive afternoon and evening ceremonies — brought to an end the high school careers of 563 Vikings on Sunday May 31, 1981, in Baccalaureate and Commencement at PHS.

. . . At 2:30 p.m. Baccalaureate, Rev. Mr. Robert Kimes reminded seniors, "Love is what makes a person what he is", while choral presentations included the hymn, "God of Our Fathers", by members of the A Cappella Choir singing in the PHS Gymnasium.

. . . During 8:00 p.m. Commencement Exercises held in the football stadium, class president Darcie Bucklin highlighted memories of seniors' four years at PHS, and class orators Doug Arney and Julie Goetz cited challenges of the 1980's as both speakers urged their classmates to set definite goals for themselves before grads — with diplomas in hand — made a triumphant exit.

Academics

Wood chips fly, torches weld as 637 Vikes apply arts

☐ Pine chips flew, torches blazed, and presses whirred as applied/industrial arts gave Vikes an overall view of wood shop metals, and graphics- to name a few- during 1980-1981.

. . . With 637 students enrolled in 44 separate sections, teachers had the chance to work with students giving close individual attention and obtaining steady participation from their "workers".

. . . Classes included in the industrial arts program ranged from technical drawing to electronics, from power mechanics to woods-with an emphasis upon practical application of information and of skills learned through class discussion. Senior Cornell Munlin stated, "Advanced Electronics helped me to learn general and specific operations of electricity and modern electronics. It was truly worth my time."

. . . Mr. Bill Eaton's annual open house for parents of metal students, brought recognition to Brad Seiller, whose brass tree limb won him first place in competition on Dec. 22, as 20+ students created projects, such as book stands, lamps, and plant holders as Christmas presents for parents.

Art students win honors by participation in contests

☐ The 239 Vikings who took art in 1980-81 learned techniques in textile design, acrylic painting, stencil painting, water colors, and other various arts and crafts.

. . . Twenty-three awards provided honor for an excellent showing at the 1981 Shillito's Scholastic Art Awards contest held on the sixth floor of Shillito's downtown, February 14-21. Students who entered work in the competition took a field trip to see their work displayed on Feb. 18.

. . . Six finalists-Pat Bernard, senior, and Kelly Mattingly, freshman, in textile design, Scott Nguyen and Diane Ishida, seniors, in water colors, and Carla Brown and Susan Franz in acrylics-saw their work forwarded to New York for national judging.

. . . Princeton also received two second-place, Key awards, for Michael Murphy's textile design, and Jill Grage's acrylic painting. In addition, 15 Princeton students received honorable mentions, third place, for various projects.

. . . Besides entering contests, the art students learned basic steps in film and print processing in photography; modern and ancient techniques of portrait painting in Portraiture; the history of art with the focus on creative problem solving, critical evaluation of works of art, and the vocabulary of art, in The Arts of Mankind I and II; and the aspects of art pertaining to advertising and display, in Commercial Arts.

Leaders

Machines run as 609 Vikes in Bus. Ed. look to future

☐ With college plans in mind, 609 Princeton students found business education an excellent preparation for futures as leaders. Learning basic skills, students had a choice of 27 courses to better their knowledge of the business world.

. . . Students' interests were aroused as several speakers informed them of careers in fields of business. These speakers included Mrs. Rita Brown, manager of Kel Star Employment Agency, to Mrs. Terrie Neufarth and Mr. Bill Imhoff's classes about job opportunities involving typing on Dec. 10, and Mrs. Sharkey, Sharkey Modeling Agency, who gave students information dealing with personal improvement.

. . . One new course was added to the business curriculum. Notetaking for College provided students who were considering education beyond high school tips on the hard task of constant notetaking.

. . . Five new books aided students in the understanding of advancements in today's computerized world, giving students the chance to learn more in high school today about business than they did two years ago.

. . . With almost 30% of Princeton's enrollment involved in some kind of business course, teachers strived to make these individual Vikings future business leaders based upon the variety of courses and office experiences offered during '80-'81.

Volumes

2052 Vikes pick English for prose, poetry, and plays

☐ The English department was most attended at PHS as 2052 Vikes were enrolled in 95 sections.

. . . Parents speaking on English in careers included Joan Warman, Dave Gordon, Richard and Bobbie Bull, James Greer, and Reverend Richard Dargatz. John Sebu gave tips on job applications, and Steve Hoffman discussed journalism. Lenna Rashkovsky conducted a make-up workshop for students and guests from Playhouse in the Park spoke on careers in theater.

. . . Plays viewed at Playhouse were: Complusion, The Man Who Came to Dinner, School for Scandal, and A View from the Bridge.

. . . The annual poetry contest gave Vikes a chance to express their poetry ability. Winners were 1st place-Minton Reid, Nandini Anantharaman, Kara Bauer, and Jimmie Jones; 2nd place-Joe Wambach, Patrick Stearns, Deborah Weisbrod, and Patty White; 3rd place-Robin Brown, Cheryl Thielmeyer, Jackie Hyde and Joelle Godfrey.

. . . The Right-to-Read Week was successful with the book character contest. The top three winners were Mrs. Virginia McCallum as Uncle Remus, senior Chris Young, The Elephant Man, and junior Mike Johnson, Christopher Robin.

. . . The essay contest winners were: 1st place-Kevin Woodruff, Susan Patterson, Dawn Morris, and Jennifer Lyons; 2nd place-Steve Johnson, Keith VandeStadt, Melissa Kramer, and Bijoy Mathew; 3rd place-Stan Wallace, Merilee Tepe, Alison Baker and Lauri Oliver.

As they carefully listen (Opposite Page, 6), Steve Howard, junior, and Amada Morris, sophomore, digest the words of Mr. Henry Ziegler in third-period Russian III on Mon., Dec. 22.

Culture

680 Vikes take on foreign language and go for it

☐ The 680 students who took foreign language in 1980-81 learned much more than the language, as an important part of the courses was an understanding of the cultures of the countries under study.

. . . As a result of this approach, three of Mr. Henry Ziegler's Russian students-Ken Adams, Becky Montgomery, and Tom Roswick-won first place in the fourteenth annual Slavic Day competition at Ohio State University on Nov. 21. The team answered questions on Russian geography, history and literature in an "It's Academic"-type contest, and won $40 worth of books and equipment.

. . . Mrs. Irene Bell's German students enjoyed dinner at the Forest View Garden Restaurant, which serves German food and gives presentations of German music by U.S. students and a German band. During spring a group of German students took a ten-day trip to Germany and visited cities such as Heidelburg, Frankfurt, and Innsbrook.

. . . Latin students attended state workshops at Columbus late in March and held their Roman Banquet on March 29 with seven other schools attending the annual event. Latin Honor Society induction and a slave trade occurred during the affair.

. . . Mr. Steve Wagner's Spanish classes experienced Spanish cluture as they learned Spanish carols at Christmas and prepared Spanish food before they wrapped it all up with the breaking of the pinata.

Careers

364 Vikings develop skills, prepare for life at Great Oaks

☐ Developing skills, gaining career experience, and meeting new friends were advantages at Greak Oaks programs for PHS students in '80-'81.

. . . With a total of 364 students enrolled at the vocational schools-336 attending Scarlet; 21 attending Live; 4 attending Diamond and 3 attending Laurel-Vikes found that the vocational school was the perfect way to "round out" a high school education. Students combined English/history with "on-the-job" training. The option of 60+ courses gave Vikings a seemingly unlimited vocational choice.

. . . Careers varied from auto mechanics to welding, lab assistant to broadcasting. Donna Sorrells, junior currently enrolled in cosmetology at Scarlet Oaks, stated, "Scarlet Oaks has given me a realistic outlook on life. I've realized that a vocational skill, as well as regular education, can help me succeed."

. . . After graduation, students are able to use their skills effectively in the "real world", according to Mr. James Snow, PHS vocational counselor.

Useful

Home arts, other techniques prove valuable to 366 Vikes

☐ Useful arts of cooking, sewing, and washing, plus the valuable techniques of money management, family living, teen living and child developement came under study by 366 Home Ec students during 1980-81.

. . . The nursery school was once again successful this year as the Home Ec Dept. ran a six-week program each semester to teach the 3-and 4-year-olds as well as high school students.

. . . Child Development and Family Living students of Mrs. Barbara Paulson became "parents" as they raised an egg for five days. Students drew an egg dyed pink or blue from a basket, named it and cared for it. They could leave their "child" only to put it "to bed" in the refrigerator or if they paid a "babysitter" 10¢ an hour-a valuable lesson in the awesome responsibility of raising a child.

Math students solve problems, look ahead to face future

☐ Challenge of math faced 1630 Princeton students in 1980-1981 as they enlisted their skills in courses ranging from Applications of Math to calculus in Math V.

. . . Many seniors found a practical approach to math by taking Personal Finance-giving them a working knowledge of insurance, credit, income tax, and fundamental business processes.

. . . Geometry students faced the difficult task of solving problems in BASIC language, as they spent approximately 2½ weeks in computer programming.

. . . Because math serves as the foundation for so many careers -such as engineering and science professions-teachers spent many hours after school giving extra instruction to to students wanting "one-to-one" help for comprehension.

Alive!

Sound of music enriches lives in school years and beyond

☐ With nearly a third of Vikings enrolled in music, sounds of voices and instruments were not unusual in PHS halls as 805 Vikes were involved in some type of music from percussion to piano, from music theory to marching band. . . . A new course, Keyboard Improvisation, gave pianists depth in playing the "ivories," and a new book, Elements of Informal Music, provided students with info on enjoyable, informal music. . . . Speakers advised PHS' musicians on different subjects, as guest artists included composer Jerry Williams, Christmas concert; and Patricia TaKala, soprano, with Henri Venanzi, accompanist, appearing in voice class. One field trip to Faust for voice class proved delightful for these students. . . . During the fall, the Marching Band entertained fans at the football games and performed at contests. The Symphonic Band, the Concert Band and the Orchestra gave audiences pleasure by playing at winter/spring concerts, as A Cappella blended voices to create beautiful sounds throughout the year. Mrs. Rankins' piano classes learned basic skills of piano while playing different pieces of music. . . . Most students planned to continue their skills after high school, while many others used music to enrich their high school years, as either way music brought pleasure to everyone.

Fitness

52 sections give 1293 Vikes physical fitness, driver awareness

☐ Physical fitness and driver awareness were stressed in the physical education and driver's education programs of PHS during '80-'81.

. . . With a total of 1293-62% of Vikes-participating in the two areas, coaches and teachers continued to provide useful information for the mind and body, while a weightlifting seminar on Dec. 2 aided Vikes in the development of their muscles.

. . . With a total of 52 different sections to choose from, PHS students had no problem keeping fit.

1390 Vikings discover the world around them in science

☐ Science department students —1390 in 66 sections learned more about the world, through experiences gained this past year.

. . . First Semester Biology II students went on a field trip to Hocking Hills on Sunday Oct. 12, to see the topography, geology, plant and animal life in Southwest Ohio. They also attended a cell symposium sponsored by the American Society of Cell Biology at Stouffer's Grand Ballroom. Many aspects of the symposium dealt with cellular biology and human reproduction. Student participation came in the form of viewing cells through an electron microscope.

. . . Second semester Biology II classes took a field trip to Middletown Hospital on Saturday, April 4., to view its functions. They then went on an after-school field trip to Northern Kentucky Univesity to examine aspects of human anatomy on Wednesday, April 29.

. . . Physics students explored atoms, stars with a new textbook entitled Modern Physics.

. . . Twenty-six students from Bio II, Chem II, Chem Study and Physics entered projects in the Science Fair at Miami University on March 28. For the third straight year Princeton won the most superior awards with 15. These students advanced to the state finals at Ohio Wesleyan on May 2, while nine others received excellent ratings. In addition Princeton won two special awards and had the top three finalists in chemistry.

By films

Vikes explore paths of mind, routes of history in social studies

☐ Through films, speakers, and other classroom techniques, 1493 students in social studies explored knowledge from paths of the mind in psychology to routes of change in American history.

. . . Speakers-a prominent part of social studies classes this year-included Terry Reynolds, a Sharonville police officer; John Dressing, an attorney; Merlin Shiverdecker, ass't. Hamilton County prosecutor; and Ms. Diane Hill and Mr. John Dressing, juvenile probation officers, speaking to You and the Law classes. Sociologist and retired Princeton High School teacher, Mr. Paul Merrill spoke to sociology classes; Princeton Russian teacher, Mr. Henry Ziegler, gave a lecture/slide presentation on the Soviet Union; and Mr. Peter Vanderputten, Princeton Special Ed teacher from the Netherlands, talked about that country during World War II to advanced European History classes.

. . . Jim Veil, Pacific International Studios, talked to American West classes about The Windwalker, a movie about the American Indians.

. . . You and the Law classes attended a field trip to Hamilton County Municipal Court to observe the judicial system in aciton.

. . . Mr. Tim Dugan's Sociology classes worked on two surveys during the year. The first-semester survey dealt with dating, marriage, and sex. This survey showed a great difference in the opinions between the four grades. The second survey, in cooperation with The Student Prince, surveyed students on their work-hours, benefits, pay, and feelings about their jobs after school.

Vikes share GMC crown, bow to 'Moe' in two battles

☐ When Vikes opened the season here on Aug. 29 with a 14-0 victory over new GMC foe Lakota, coach Pat Mancuso said the men showed "an outstanding display of defense" as the "Rebels" held T-birds to-20 yds.

. . . Continuing their success, Vikes defeated Lima away, 35-20, Sept. 5, coming from behind when they were down 20-7 at the half.

. . . Then, for the second week in a row, Viking offense totalled over 400 yards in a game, as this time their victim was Worthington, whom they defeated, 35-7. On Sept. 19 away Vikes secured yet another victory-against Upper Arlington, 19-13-followed by what coach Mancuso called "great execution by our offensive line," when the men swamped Woodward by a whopping score, 49-6, tallying 42 in the first half here, Sept. 26.

. . . In an overall "good" Homecoming game, Vikes defeated the Roger Bacon Spartans, 27-7, before a string of GMC victories over Fairfield, 28-2; Middletown, 14-7; and Hamilton in the rain, 10-0. Closing the regular season, Vikes faced their toughest opponent-Moeller-here before 12,000 fans on Oct. 31, as PHS bowed in a hard fight, 14-13.

. . . However, this loss still entitled PHS to playoffs, where they met the Crusaders in a tough battle at U.C. on Nov. 7-and bowed, 28-3, bringing their overall record to 9-2 and 5-0 as GMC champs.

Frosh hang up 7-0 campaign, as reserves struggle, 6-4

☐ Following the varsity Vikes' steps, the reserve squad defeated Lakota in their first game, 14-12, on Aug 30 to begin a 6-4 year. . . . In their next three contests-with GCL foes-Vikes lost to St. X, 14-8; Bacon, 19-8; and Elder, 14-8. . . . With a 6-0 score, reserves defeated Woodward and overwhelmed Western Hills, 24-6, in the next match-up. "This game was a total team effort," said coach Knepshield. They then went onto defeat three GMC opponents-Fairfield, 6-0; Middletown, 12-7; and Hamilton, 22-12. . . . Finishing the season with a 6-4 record, the reserve football team lost to Moe, 39-0, while posting a 4-0 slate in GMC play. . . . About 40 frosh players hung up their helmets with pride as they completed a perfect slate of 7-0. They defeated LaSalle, 22-0; Roger Bacon, 8-0; St. X., 24-0; Elder, 14-10; Fairfield, 22-6; Middletown, 14-8; and Lakota, 26-0, as they received praise from coach Chester Maupin, "This is just an exceptional group of young athletes."

Vikes place second in GMC while x-country dwindles as sport

☐ Placing in the upper half in five meets during the 1980-1981 fall campaign, PHS cross-country men fought dwindling participation. According to Frank Shands, the team reached its peak of participation during 1979 with 14 members.

. . . High point of 1980 team effort was placing 2nd of 6 in GMC competition on Tues., Oct. 7. Standout was senior Joe Boggs- PHS Most Valuable, All Star GMC, and SW Ohio Assn. All Star. He never finished below top ten up to the sectionals, and was the only PHS district qualifier.

. . . Apparently dwindling as a sport at PHS, cross-country will fall into hands of a new coach, as Frank Shands resigned as mentor.

Fish rebound from 9-7 loss to St. Xavier, swim 8-1

☐ Clinching the S.W. Ohio League symbolized a season of excellence — 8-1 — by PHS' water polo team, while the rematch against St. X on Oct. 16 exemplified rebound ability of the Fish, who came out ahead in overtime, 8-5, to avenge a 9-7 dunking earlier in the fall by the Bombers away on Sept. 30.

. . . Perhaps the greatest overall accomplishment in regular season play was the win over district champion Sycamore Aviators on Tues., Sept. 23, here, 9-6.

. . . Junior Jeff Hilk, most noteworthy of players in season's accomplishment, broke the record set by All-American Randy Mendez in 1977 of 64 goals with 68.

. . . Jeff was, thereby, dubbed "The Incredible Hilk" by The Cincinnati Enquirer before his nomination for All-State- with Bob Webster-added a final touch to his success in 1980.

. . . Team victories over Anderson, 8-3, and Moeller, 22-5, in district play sent PHS to state, where Vikes placed fifth.

During intense action against St. X (Above, 3), junior Jeff Hilk (41) attempts to protect the ball in Viking 8-5 victory.

Looking on (Above, 4), co-captain Bob Webster watches Jeff Gordon finish a shot in the 8-5 victory over St. X. on Oct. 16.

As he rises in the water (Above, 5), junior Mark Olivier prepares to pass the ball against St. X. here on Oct. 16.

Seasonal shutouts and individual game scoring highlight soccer

☐ Placing 5th in state, the PHS Vike varsity soccer team had a record-setting year. Their fall campaign concluded with an impressive 13-5-2 record that included a team shutout record of seven by sophomore goalie Greg Omeara.

. . . According to co-captain John Landon, the "Webb" defense, originally coined to describe the Cincinnati Bengals, was adopted by Viking Dennis Reagan, to provide PHS' own defensive diamond that boosted the team to an all-time winning record.

. . . The season got off to a slow start with two consecutive losses before the men sprung back into action with the first of seven seasonal shoutouts, edging Colerain 1-0.

. . . Highlights of other victories included a first-time Western Hills shutout, and a 3-1 domination of Fairfield, who had defeated the PHS soccer team in their last four games.

. . . The match, on Sat., Sept. 20, versus the Forest Park Chargers, who were rated number one in the city, resulted in a 1-2 loss. This was followed by a tie and a win and the PHS men went on to shut out Middletown by 13 points. Middletown had earlier in the season been shut out by PHS by a record 15-0 score, which included an individual game scoring record of 5 points by Dave Sheldt.

. . . Unfortunately, the GMC title was lost to Fairfield by 1/2 point when PHS tied Hamilton on Tues., Oct. 14. This loss, however, held little significance to the first-time ever sectional championship won by the Vikes, and a final season standing of 5th in state.

Women win soccer title, varied honors for individuals

☐ Clasping a fourth consecutive GMC title in four years of existence, PHS women's soccer team displayed a continuing record of excellence with a new staff-head coach Dan Woodruff and assistant, Jim Phelps.

. . . On Sept. 9 the opening match against Centerville ended in a 2-4 loss. Springing back in the following game, they edged Fairfield, 1-0, on Sept. 11 in the first of four shutouts and first of six consecutive victories.

. . . The 3-4 loss to Mother of Mercy on Thurs., Oct. 2, was followed by a winning streak of 3 games before a 2-1 loss to Lakota on Thurs., Oct. 16-explained by coach Dan Woodruff, "They had no inspiration to win the game. They had already cliched the GMC title."

. . . The next game, against Amelia, resulted in a noteworthy 2-1 victory on Oct. 21 with PHS missing 3 key players, as Julie Phelps, Michelle Nabel, and Barb Hess were sick or injured.

. . . The women's soccer team carved a niche for themselves in individual victories, also. Julie Phelps, Barb Hess, and Joann Hary made the GMC 1st team. Second team members included Denise Boetger, Cindy Brown, Kathy Kelly, and Vivian Rodriguez. Honorable mentions went to Barb Hess and Michelle Nabel. To top the season, coach Woodruff was named GMC Coach of the Year, and Julie Phelps was All-State 1st team with Vivian Rodriguez, 2nd.

Vikes set school record, tally a 151 in 7-3 season

☐ Starting their season with a loss against Fairfield, 161-151, the Varsity men proceeded to chip a 7-3 dual campaign. Their next four matches were victories: Sycamore, 164-171; Middletown, 157-168; Hamilton, 155-172; and Lima, 164-182. After winning these four, Vikes were set down by Madeira, 180-167, yet they bounced back to defeat Lakota, 166-171.

... A new school recoru came against Turpin at Sharon Woods with a score of 51-162, s senior Bill Ullimanwith 35-was medalist.

... When Vikes placed 8th in the district, Bill Wulf was medalist with a 79.

... Men's reserve and women's teams both completed their season with even records-8-8 for the men and 6-6 for the women. Diana Sroufe, women's coach, said, "This was a good season for us."

Viking girls gain skills in volleyball, 11-9, 10-10

☐ A seasonal record of 10-10 and 11-9 reserve/varsity, respectively, indicated as rookie coach Ann Cress put it, "The girls have been working hard and gaining skills." 1980 was a season of "maturation and growth" toward next year, which should be "a good one" with all but one returning player. . . . Only senior on the team was Martha Lyle, varsity member since her freshman year. There were, however, 3 returning frosh varsity players: Karen Kelly, Heather Bradford, and Julie Webster. Co-captain Monique Cobbs was also a returning half-year varsity player and will be back next year with three sophomores, who will be veterans in their junior year.

Doubles team snags 2nd in state as women volley to GMC crown

☐ With opening remarks, "We are looking forward to a very good season if the girls continue their enthusiasm and practice," coach Cathy Warrenburg was obviously anxious for a winning tennis record. . . . The girls started a 13-5 season -in which they won the GMC- with a victory over Seton 5-0, then, in their second match, defeated Lima, 5-0, losing to Wyoming in their third match, 5-0. Women Vikes then retained another victory against Lakota, winning 5-0. After bowing to both Centerville and Indian Hill by scores of 5-0, they were upended 4-1 by Oak Hills for three straight losses. . . . The girls fought back, and soon their winning streak was again intact, with ten consecutive victories-starting with a 3-2 win over Mercy, followed by Fairfield, 5-0; Middletown, 3-2; Walnut Hills, 5-0; Hamilton, 3-2; Lima, 5-0; Lakota, 5-0; Alter, 3-2; Fairfield again, 5-0; and Hamilton, 4-1. The team ended their season in dual matches with a loss against Middletown 3-2, leaving them 13-5. . . . Tournament play showed outstanding results. In a 12-team tourney held at Sycamore, Princeton ranked 2nd and won the doubles. "Princeton's doubles team of Lee Chaiken and Chris Halbauer were definitely the strongest team in the tournament," said coach Warrenburg before the girls went on to take 1st at Hamilton. . . . In sectional matches the team earned 1st place honors in the doubles competition as Halbauer and Chaiken played 54 games and lost only 6. The girls placed 3rd in districts with doubles team 2nd in state. . . . The reserve team was also winning with a 6-2 season record, Coach Diane Todd stated she was pleased with their "hard work and enthusiasm".

Vikes tally 4-16 overall as Coach Hillard ends career ☐ PHS' varsity basketball team has lost veteran coach, John Hillard, retiring as mentor after ten years here. He compiled a lifetime record of 250-127, piloting Viking teams to an 87-72 mark. Coach Hillard's most memorable honors included his 1980 title as a national H.S. basketball coach and state title in 1970 at Lincoln Heights. . . . Despite Coach Hillard's experience, PHS men had a disappointing 4-16 overall season record and a 2-8 GMC tally. The average margin of loss was 14 points, and the top scorer from PHS was Tom Mc Cloud with a 14.6 average in 1980-1981. . . . Standout games were the St. Xavier and Fairfield contests on Fri., Nov. 28, and Fri., Jan. 23, respectively. St. X had to fight for the victory as they edged PHS, 64-63, in overtime. PHS then defeated the Indians by an 11-point advantage, 58-47, due to concerted effort in the last two minutes of play. . . . Making a surprise comeback, the hoopsters were victorious in tournament play, 55-52, on Feb. 26 against Lakota. Middletown was allowed only 4 points leeway, 69-65, on Feb. 28 to end the Vikes' year.

Cheerleaders keep spirit, sell pompons for $381 profit

☐ Win or lose "We kept our spirit," stated co-captain Mary Auciello, exemplifying the non-ending spirit that did not fail-rain or shine.

. . . Cheerleaders had no recorded tally to witness their "great" season and seldom received credit for their self-determination. "We did it ourselves," explained Mary Auciello. This motivation, without gratification deserved recognition at the athletic banquets.

. . . Besides leading cheers and victory cries, the varsity cheerleaders managed to raise their own booster money by selling hats and pompons at a $381 profit.

. . . The cheering force at PHS included varsity, reserve, sophomore and freshman squads with wrestlerettes, who cheered the PHS men on at wrestling matches and combined to form a "powerhouse" of dynamite spirit.

Coach Renner opens chance for new mentor by resignation

☐ An appropriate ending to 16 years of coaching was to be blessed with a super-talent and a super-team. Bill Renner, resigning swimming coach, led sophomore super-talent, Jeff "Flash" Gordon, to the pennacle of success by clasping All American in the 500 freestyle event.

. . . Inspiring motivation is a tiring job, according to Mr. Renner, who felt it was time to open the head coach position to someone else.

'Fish' churn record year for GMC title, 9th in state

☐ A record-setting year was in evidence because in 7 of 11 events previous records were broken during 1980-81. "Fish" also tallied a record 494 to steal the GMC championship on Feb. 12 & 13 by more than triple the score of nearest competitor, Hamilton, 158. ... The season opened with a 96-96, 1st-place tie against Sycamore on Nov. 22-the beginning of a year-long struggle between the "Fish" and Aviators. PHS placed 2nd to Sycamore at all invitationals, but the dual meet on Jan. 15 proved PHS victorious, 89-83. ... PHS lost its only dual meet, 92-80, to Upper Arlington on Jan. 17, leaving the dual meet tally at 10-1. ... On Feb. 20, PHS men clasped 2nd in Oxford Sectionals to qualify for SW Districts on Feb. 27, where they placed 5th. The year ended on March 6 & 7, placing 9th at state.

Four women find places on All-Star team by GMC action

☐ Capturing the better half of their winter campaign, the PHS Varsity women's basketball team had an 11-9 overall season tally and a 5-5 GMC record. The Viking team lost more games than any previous one, but it was the first team to make it to the sectional tournament semifinals.

. . . The season commenced with 4 wins out of 5 but was followed by a discouraging 5 game losing streak. The highpoint of this losing streak was the four overtimes during the Fairfield game on January 8th. A record for PHS women.

. . . The losing streak was broken on January 22 as PHS women defeated first-ranked Middletown, 52-41.

The women concluded the season winning 2/3 of the remaining games.

. . . Ending the season on a positive note, four team members placed on the GMC All-Star team including: 1st team Bernice Linner and Barb Nelson, 2nd team Martha Lyle, and honorable mention Wendy Davis.

'Good season'

Winning was the women's motto in their 5-4, winter campaign

☐ In the women's gymnastic team's winning season, they brought their final record to 5-4.

... The girls started their campaign with a loss, 77.495 to Lakota's 87.355. They then went on to defeat Ross, 78.075-71.450, before they lost by a score of 79.255-80.820 against Fairmont East.

... In their match against Mother of Mercy, the team was also defeated 83.115-80.205. Outstanding freshman gymnast Susan Newcomb showed talent, by placing 1st on balance beam and second in floor exercise. Betsy Baughman placed second on the parallel bars and third in the floor exercise and balance team.

... The girls' next two opponents were Finneytown and Centerville. They defeated Finneytown, 80.990-79.460, and lost to Centerville by a score of 93.350-83.075.

... In the final competitions of their regular season, the girls defeated Mariemont, 81.78-75.03, and Seven Hills, 81.255-68.91.

... Against Mariemont, frosh Sue Newcomb placed 1st on balance beam and parallel bars, second in floor exercise and third in vaulting. Betsy Baughman took 2nd place vaulting and parallel bars and 3rd in balance beam and floor exercise, while Laura Perrero placed 3rd on the parallel bars.

... Against Seven Hills, PHS took 11 of 13 places, with Sue Newcomb placing 1st in vault, floor, and beam, and Betsy Baughman 2nd in floor, vault, and beam.

... In District Class III competition at Anderson, Betsy Baughman place 7th all-round of 150 girls, and she also placed 5th in floor and 9th on beam and vault.

... Coach Cathy Warrenburg stated, "This was a good season; the girls worked hard this year and competed with some difficult teams. The class level of our team was advanced greatly."

Dave Reece reaches state as grapplers tumble, 3-10

☐ Grapplers started their campaign against Roger Bacon, losing 42-30. Again defeated — by Oak Hills 55-7 — they pinned Scott, 39-31, before losing the next four matches: Upper Arlington, 47-14; Columbus Eastmoor, 32-30; Cleveland Heights, 50-8 and GMC foe, Hamilton, 42-27.

. . . In a tri-match, PHS scored 23 points against Greenhills' 47 and 8 points against Sycamore's 59, as Dave Reece was a double winner. In his first varsity match, Robert Thomas did an outstanding job in the 145 weight class.

. . . Vikes went to a 3-10 season — defeating Lima, 57-12; losing to LaSalle, 41-25; beating Forest Park, 38-21; and bowing to Lakota, 52-15. Reece — the only state qualifier — was upended in his opening match.

. . . Reserves ended their season with a record of 3-6, while the frosh posted a 1-5 dual slate and 2 no-score matches.

Setting his grip for his big move (Opposite Page, 4), Kenneth Green proceeds toward a second-place finish in sectional competition.

In head-to-head battle (Above, 5), Howard Moore attempts to bring his opponent to defeat as he works his way to district competition.

Women end their season with 1st place in GMC meet

☐ In the first year to have men's and women's high school swimming together, the PHS women ended their dual meet season 4-6.

. . . In their first meet of the year, they defeated Western Hills, 110-35, and then lost to Oak Hills, 101-64, and Anderson, 118-54.

. . . Defeating Lima Sr., 54-29, and Fairfield, 108-55, they then lost against Sycamore, 115-56, and won against Madeira, 108-50.

. . . "Against Sycamore, Kelly Shuck placed first in the 500-year freestyle, and against Madeira Natalie Gaenge set a pool record of 47.2 in the 100-yard backstroke," commented coach Jane Hart. "Our girls are increasing their skills in daily practice," stated coach Hart in mid-season.

. . . The girls were then defeated by Turpin, 104-57, Mariemont, 79-68, and Springfield North, 47-32, at the end of their regular season.

. . . In the Anderson relays the girls placed 6th, GMC 1st, Sectionals 2nd, Invitational Championship 3rd, Districts 11th, and State 15th.

Vikes capture title with 22-4, 9-1 league wins in spring battle

☐ With a season record of 22-4 and a GMC title, the varsity baseball players were champions this spring. . . . The Vikes started their campaign with four straight wins: Mariemont, 13-4; Roger Bacon, 11-6; Western Hills, 6-0; and Sycamore, 5-3. . . . Throughout the season with the help of their leading hitters — Ken Johnson, 617; Dave Keeling, 397; Joe Lovell, 368; Dave Sheldt, 345; and Steve Barrow, at 412 — Vikes went on to beat Lima Sr. on May 24 and finally capture the GMC title.

. . . With a season record of 22-4 and league slate of 9-1, the Vikes had a good hold on the second place spot in the city.

. . . Having a remarkable season such as this, Vikes were notably recognized in the awards categories.

All-Stars this year were: Ken Johnson, All Ohio team, 2nd team Enquirer All Star, and nominated to High School All-American team; Dave Keeling, 1st Enquirer team; Joe Lovell, 1st Enquirer team, with John Scott Dave Sheldt, and Todd Lansdell all achieving honorable mentions on the Enquirer All-Star squad.

Pat Stearns leads batters as young Vikes hit 7-10, 8-6

☐ Reserve, frosh baseball teams were also in gear this season-reserves with a 7-10 record, frosh with an 8-6 overall slate.

. . . Although hampered by a 9-game losing streak after posting a 4-1 start, reserves ended their season with three wins: Middletown, 4-2; Loveland, 4-3; and Roger Bacon, 13-4.

. . . Junior Pat Stearns stood out with a .408 batting average and led 7 offensive categories.

. . . The freshmen finished with a winning season, losing only 6 games.

Viking women nail 2nd spot in state tourney for 26-3 slate

☐ State slipped through the hands of PHS women's softball by a loss to Talmadge as the Vikes slugged in 271 runs during their 29-game season. They out-hit their opponents by more than 3 to 1 and tallied only 3 losses overall.

. . . In addition to having a "great record," the Princeton softball team was the 1st from PHS to reach state finals for any women's sport in the district's 25- year history.

. . . These astounding accomplishments were led by senior Barb Nelson, as she ended with a .656 batting average and recorded a 20-2 pitching record with 2 saves and a .92 era.

. . . It was not a one-woman-team, however, that led to such a winning season. Seven of the team members made all GMC, including: 1st team-Barb Nelson, Wendy Davis, and Faren Abrams; 2nd team-Karen Kelley, Beth Carr, and Julie Webster. Honorable mention went to Heather Bradford.

. . . Faren Abrams and Wendy Davis followed close behind Barb with .547 and .501 batting averages, respectively, while sophomore Karen Kelley picked up where Barb left off on pitching by tallying a 6-1 record and 1.01 era.

. . . According to Dan Woodruff, the team's worst games came in each of their losses; against Mother of Mercy, Fairfield, and Talrmadge the girls lost on unforced errors. Fortunately, the team has a bright outlook for 1981-82 with over half of the members returning.

Vike tennis hosts tourney with 16 teams for 1st year

☐ Men's varsity tennis finished their season with a record of 6-10 and a GMC tally of 4-6.

. . . They started the season with 3 consecutive wins — Middletown, 3-2; Forest Park, 5-0; and Lima, 3-2. Junior Mike Johnson won his match against Frank Danlitz of Middletown 6-4, 4-6, 7-6. Mike Johnson and Mike Todd won both of their matches over Forest Park.

. . . Their next wins came in another match-up against Lima. PHS won, 3-2, with doubles teams of Davis-Shah and Howard-Leister winning both matches.

. . . Reserves finished with a 5-7 record. Their wins came over Country Day, 4-1; Oak Hills, 5-0; Bacon, 5-0; and Fairfield again, 5-0, with five of the reserve players moved up to the varsity level.

. . . End of the season brought awards to players. MVP for varsity was Mike Johnson; Steve Howard, MIP varsity; and reserve Butch Davis, MIP.

. . . Johnson and Todd finished 3rd in the doubles competition at Sycamore's Invitational, May 15-16.

. . . Princeton Vikes hosted the Princeton Tennis Championships this year. With 16 teams competing, the Vikes finished 13th.

. . . This was the first year Princeton hosted such an event, one that helped highlight the Vikes' season.

Mile relay team legs it to state as Coach Shands ends his career

☐ PHS men's track team highlighted their 1980-81 spring campaign with the mile relay team of Robert Thompson, Darryl Coggins, Phil Gibson, and Cornell Munlin going all the way to state.

. . . The season ended negatively, however, as eleven-year veteran coach Frank Shands left "... an inexperienced but rapidly developing team." Coach Shands was the 3rd coach with over 10 years of experience to resign this year. "... because interest is not what it used to be," he said.

. . . As Coach Shands expected, PHS men were both district and state contenders. Discus thrower Ed Steele and long-jumper Darryl Morton both participated in districts, but only the mile relay team went on to state. After placing 4th in district, they failed to place at state.

. . . Next year, the young team will fall into the hands of Ken Meibers, from Colerain, who has been coaching track there for eight years.

Women's track gains experience as veterans look to 1982

☐ Leaving their mark in individual accomplishments and progression, rather than in an outstanding team record, women's track gained experience in the 1980-81 season. Coach Judy Morton stated, "Overall, we have been very pleased with the accomplishments. The underclassmen particularly improved and we are looking forward to a good season next year, even though the team will be new."

. . . Senior Martha Lyle and frosh Sheila Dupree represent the contrast of old and new talent. Sheila not only placed 1st at the PHS Invitational, on April 23, in hurdles, but was also a member of the 1600-relay that made it to the district meet. Martha swept MVP, set a 5'5" PHS high jump record, and also ran in the 800 and 1600-relays that went to districts.

. . . According to coach Morton, with the idea of improvement, the PHS women's track team ended their season on a positive note and look to next year with MIP, junior Jackie Mims, in shot put, discus, 400-meter, and hurdles.

With a limp (Above, 5), Janice Washington is aided by Mike Temp after suffering a torn ligament at PHS' invitational meet on April 23.

75 inductees join NHS during ceremony on May 6

☐ Seventy-five juniors and seniors joined 54 members of the PHS chapter of the National Honor Society when induction ceremonies were held in Matthews Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on Wed., May 6.

. . . The evening began with a musical prelude by Orchestra members before all participants joined in the Pledge of Allegiance and NHS president, Julie Goetz, provided a joyful welcome to the audience of inductees, parents, and other guests.

. . . Mrs. Carolyn Ruley, associate principal, gave the administrative address, followed by brief discussions on National Honor Society requirements of scholarship, leadership, character and service by student officers.

. . . Finally, inductees-32 seniors and 43 juniors-heard brief words of wisdom from Princeton High School principal, Dr. William E. Steiden, before Dr. Steiden-with chapter sponsor, Mr. Michael Grote, and chapter president, Julie Goetz-presented inductees with a membership pin, certificate and card in a ceremony that climaxed a lengthy selection process by the faculty throughout spring.

'Lively'

Odin's Word wins praise from NSPA for fall issues

☐ After editors of Odin's Word cut their summer vacation short on Thurs., Aug. 14, to prepare an issue for opening day, Tues., Aug. 26, they worked closely with Journalism class students on 15 more issues throughout the 1980-1981 school year.

. . . Their efforts at keeping Vikes informed won a "Mark of Distinction" in coverage and content with a "First Class" evaluation for fall from the National Scholastic Press Association.

. . . In granting this rating, NSPA judge D. Stafford said in summary comments, "Odin's Word does a terrific job of covering numerous school events colorfully and effectively. . . . I was quite impressed with the fall issues of Odin's Word. The layouts are lively; the writing is newsy, creating a publication that is satisfying to read as well as appealing visually. My congratulations to staff and adviser for your very successful approach to scholastic journalism."

. . . As an additional reward, 17 staff members of the newspaper and yearbook who met requirements were granted membership in Quill and Scroll at the 19th annual Journalism Banquet in David's Buffet, Evendale, on Mon., May 18.

To rise

Staff meets special challenge as adviser faces surgery

☐ In portraying the theme, Ascension, the 1980-1981 Student Prince staff faced its own distinctive struggle this year. . . . Sending a letter to 2,116 parents on Mon., Oct. 6, and conducting a sales campaign through individual homerooms, the staff sold only 844 subscriptions at $13.00 each and obtained only 15 parent patrons at $2.00 each, while approximately 100 extra books would be available for sale at $15.00 . . . Special challenges came when Mr. Jack Donnelly, adviser, was hospitalized at the start of the school year with a gall bladder attack, and editors/managers — with help from administrators — oversaw distribution of the 1980 book. These unusual challenges extended throughout April into mid-May while Mr. Donnelly underwent surgery and recuperation after editors/managers had met their first two deadlines — in a struggle continuing to July 3, when final copy shipped to the printer. . . . However, the staff tried to rise to excellence of past books receiving All American and Medalist evaluations in 11 of 13 years and 10 of 11, respectively, with a five-star All American in 1980.

PHS students of Russian win competition at Ohio State

☐ In the course of 1980-81, the Russian Club and Russian Dancers participated in a variety of projects in one of their busiest years.

. . . Activities enjoyed by the Russian Club included movies at the Valley Theater-Young Wife on Aug. 17, Temptations on Sept. 21, and on Dec. 17, the Incorrigible Liar.

. . . Jenny Reese, employed by the International Department of Armco Steel, spoke to Russian Club on Dec. 9 about job opportunities for people with a foreign language skill.

. . . The weekend of Oct. 18-19 brought fun and fellowship to several Russian students who attended Camp Friendship, in Utica, Ohio. Over 50 PHS students attended Ohio State University's Slavic Day, Nov. 20. The 12th annual Russian Banquet-in the PHS cafeteria on Feb. 18-was an evening full of food and culture.

. . . Russian Dancers performed at three Ohio colleges. After the first perfrmance on Slavic Day at OSU, the dancers participated in lectures and workshops with the other Princeton students in attendance on Nov. 20. They performed on Jan. 24 during International Day at the University of Cincinnati before an appearance at Wright State University on May 1.

Fun, honors reward members of three clubs in language

☐ Fun and honor were key words for members of Latin and Spanish Clubs and of Spanish Honor Society this year.

. . . After raising $2,000 by a candy sale in fall, Latin Club highlighted 1980-1981 through its annual Roman Banquet in the cafeteria on Sun., March 29, with skits, a "slave" auction, and induction of 30 members into the Latin Honor Society.

. . . Spanish Club members supplemented regular meetings with special delight as they shared candy from a pinata at their Christmas party on Wed., Dec. 17, and feasted on a South-of-the-Border menu at Chi-Chi's in November and late in spring.

. . . After raising $300 by candy in fall, Spanish Honor Society welcomed 15 new members on Tues., March 24, in a banquet at Mr. David Staubitz' home with food prepared by members.

Enthusiastic members (Opposite Page, 1) of Spanish Club show their preference in a vote during meeting after school on Tues., Oct. 21.

"Slaves" (Left, 5) await auction at the Roman Banquet in the cafeteria on Sun., March 29.

America (Left, 6) may consider the language of Latin dead, but PHS keeps it alive through the Latin Club, whose members include: Front Row — Mr. R. Kelsch, spons.; T. Handorf, pres.; K. Skits

Banquets, dances help clubs learn culture, customs of foreign lands

Culture and customs provided an interesting combination for French and German Clubs throughout 1980-1981.

. . . German Club opened their year with a candy sale in September. On October 15 before homeroom, the German Club sold 25¢ pretzels while the German Band played tunes of the Rhineland. On November 28 the German Club made a trip to Forest View Gardens, known for their sing-a-long dinners and dancing.

. . . The German Club viewed the Nutcracker Suite at Music Hall on December 21 before their Christmas Party on December 23 with German cookies and Christmas carols.

. . . Before their end-of-the-year picnic, the German Club held their banquet on February 25. It was a success because of enthusiastic performances from the German Band and the German Dancers. Other entertainment included skits, a sing-a-long, and German cuisine.

. . . March 9 was a night of French cuisine, as a soiree supplied entertainment with the ceremonious induction of the new French Honor Society members and a performance from the French Dancers, who also performed at Wright State on May 1.

. . . Individual French students sold candy to pay for their dinner at the Maisonette, Cincinnati's only 5-star restaurant, on June 4.

Drama students and technicians explore the nature of their craft

☐ Long hours and hard work made the 1980-1981 school year a successful one for theater-minded students.

. . . The annual drama workshops were on Sept. 2-5 for students interested in acting, technical theater, lighting and sound. Each class was led by a skilled Thespian.

. . . Other activities included Christmas caroling at Longview State Hospital on Dec. 20. Also theater-oriented students ushered at the Palace Theater for the production of Babes in Toyland on Jan. 3. They worked at the Taft Theater during the performances of The Elephant Man on Feb. 21 and They're Playing Our Song on Feb. 1.

. . . Thespians sold programs at some home football and basketball games to earn money for their initiation scheduled for May 19.

. . . The Mime Troupe started slowly due to the change in sponsors from Mrs. Renee Dickson to Mr. Joe Phillips. The group ushered and performed before the Children's Theater public presentations of The Wizard of Oz and for all Studio Theater performances of The Night of January 16th. They delighted Heritage Hill and Lincoln Heights Elementary students with performances of "The Night Before Christmas in Mime" on Dec. 20 and 21. The Mime Troupe was treated with the presentation by Mummenschanz, a professional Mime Troupe, at Miami University on March 10.

Vike debaters win at Wooster amid 'firsts' in five tourneys

☐ Speaking out on behalf of their views for their school and their country, Princeton's debate, speech and NFL had a successful 1980-1981 school year overall.

. . . Seniors Doug Arney and Julie Goetz were the winners of five tournaments for their school. The first held at Wooster College, -Wooster, Ohio, in the third week of November-hosted 50 teams in competition.

. . . The Fairmont West event- with 20 teams-saw PHS won this tournament late in January.

. . . OHSSL district championships held the last week of January consisted of 20 teams. Princeton won districts and state for the third time in Princeton history.

. . . Vikes collectively won over twenty speaker awards including first speaker at Pittsburgh taken by Doug Arney. This was November 28-30, where competition was held in an annual event.

. . . Julie Goetz also took fourth speaker out of sixty speakers at the Super Bowl of Debate in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on December 28-30.

. . . Seniors Julie Goetz, Doug Arney and Ron Joines took the lead in helping the year to be a success, as Mrs. Phyllis Barton was once again director of forensics with the assistance of Mr. Thomas Gordon in a victorious year.

Service

Youth for Christ, Michelangelo, Pegasus sponsor varied events

☐ Interested in culture/service, Youth for Christ, Michelangelo and Pegasus — library club — held varied events in '80-'81.

. . . Youth for Christ began the year with a candy sale, netting $400, before members enjoyed a Halloween party on Oct. 28 and a Christmas party following their caroling tour of Heritage Hill.

. . . Members also contributed five food baskets — worth $40 each — before Christmas, and they sponsored their 7th annual ping-pong marathon on March 6-7, raising $1,043.70 to fight cystic fibrosis.

. . . Also interested in service/-culture, Michelangelo Society decorated windows in the Sharonville Recreation Center for Halloween and at Howard Johnson's, Marriott, Perkins, and the Rec Center for Xmas before a $150 sale of student art in May.

. . . Dedicated to culture, Pegasus sponsored a book fair from April 6-10, netting $100+.

Food baskets (Above, 6) await delivery on December 23 by Youth for Christ Club: Front Row — - P. Hitch, D. Panzer, G. Andrews, K. Robinson. Back Row — K. VandeStadt, P. Stearns, and Mr. D. Lively, spons.

Value

Present issues occupy interests of Ecology, Radio, JCWA groups

☐ Interested in contemporary issues, Ecology Club, Radio Club, and Jr. Council on World Affairs conducted programs this year of special value to members.

. . . Concern for the environment led Ecology Club to recycle 75 tons of paper — at a profit of approximately $1125- while members took field trips to the Cincinnati Zoo on October 17 and to Hueston Woods Nature Center on May 30.

. . . Rewards came, too, to Ecology Club as 15 members "earned" a scarlet and gray club T-shirt by work at the recycling center, attendance at meetings and invitation to other students.

. . . Eight members also received club sponsorship to attend a two-day science symposium at Ohio U. in April before the club gave $300 to the RELIS Nature Center.

. . . WPHS Radio Club members reached out beyond PHS to visit WJVS-FM and a closed circuit TV system at Scarlet Oaks in January before sponsoring a contest in spring, with winners: Julie Goetz, newscaster; Martha Gorley, announcer; Dave Shepard, deejay.

. . . JCWA supplemented small-group discussion during the year with participation in a week-end meeting at the Netherland-Hilton, April 10-11.

Vikes aid groups, staff, and students with projects and money raising ☐ Leadership and service were a few qualities shown by Student Council, Vikettes and Superintendent's Advisory Council during 1980-81 school year.

. . . August 26 marked the beginning of activities for Student Council. This day found them welcoming back staff and students. Once again they performed their annual tasks in the fall of supervising underclass pictures on Sept. 22-24, freshman elections on Sept. 16 and Homecoming preparations Oct. 3-4. PHS Student Council members carried on their "Welcome Wagon" throughout the year, helping new students adjust to Princeton life.

. . . In new programs, they helped clubs operate concession stands and provided Christmas and Valentine Day card delivery service. Rounding out their year of fun, they helped prepare the Academic Banquet here on May 26. Meanwhile, Superintendent's Advisory Council met once a month to share thoughts and concerns of fellow students with Dr. Richard A. Denoyer.

. . . Thirty-six Vikettes devoted services as usherettes at home football and basketball games, other sports events, and certain other events throughout the year. Vikes pursue career interests, state honors at Great Oaks ☐ Furthering their desired education in a specific career, 210 juniors and 154 seniors chose to involve themselves in study at the Great Oaks Vocational School District in '80-'81.

. . . All of the students were also involved in clubs and organizations pertaining to their chosen fields- ranging from child care, cosmetology, law-enforcing, nursing, power mechanics, business management, horsemanship, and welding to 60 other career possibilities.

. . . Great Oaks students came to PHS on Oct. 22-23 during career days to present 19 different exhibits in the main lobby/halls as a means of interesting PHS students to enroll in the Great Oaks programs.

. . . Some students expanded their knowledge and entered local and national competition in which they received a variety of awards. Outstanding among them were Kevin Renner, active in diesel mechanics, and David Spears, involved in construction electricity, both of whom won state contests in their respective vocational areas. They then proceeded to compete in national contests held in Atlanta, Georgia, on June 15.

COE Banquet rewards Vikes for effort in '80-'81

☐ Interests ranging from careers in business/industry to challenges of homemaking found expression in Occupational Work Experience, Home Economics, and Cooperative Office Education clubs during 1980-1981.

... As OWE members looked toward their banquet late in the school year, 13 members toured Bethesda North Hospital with Mrs. Lois Hatch, sponsor, on Dec. 18. Commenting on the visit, senior Dave Dotson said, "I learned some stuff I didn't know. It was very interesting."

... Meanwhile, Home Economics Club members met after school regularly to further their interest in home arts through small group discussion.

... COE members held their banquet at the Ramada Inn this year on Tues., May 5, when they were treated to a buffet dinner and received awards for the year's work in class.

... Recipients were: for Typing — Lisa Kretchmar; Adv. Typing/Accounting — Sue Patterson; Adv. Accounting/Shorthand — Peg Shelton; Data Proc./Computer Prog. — Mike Bramble; Office Prac. — Linda Weber; Intro. to Business — Ed Obermeyer; Best COE Student — Sheri Rhodus; and Outstanding Senior Co-op — Jama Baldridge.

Unique

Original routines prove band is Princeton's pride in local contests

☐ The larger-than-usual, 208-member, Princeton High School Marching Band added color to all Viking football games from the Lakota, season-opener to the televised Moeller half-time show, where the climax of the event was an appearance by the Blues Brothers — Chris Young and Don Fine — with the Blues Brothers' Band — Robert Evans, Mike Moore, Andy Jack, Alan Stokes, Jim Haines, Steve Johnson, Kevin Luginbill, and Wes Lower-playing songs from the Blues Brothers' film, Soul Man. The show was televised on channels 5, 48 and the Warner Amex Cable Station.

. . . PHS Band members sweated through Band Camp on August 18-22. The camp disciplined and conditioned Band members for activities such as the Band Expo at Anderson High School on September 6; Miami University Band Day, where combined bands performed a patriotic half-time show on September 13; United Appeal Kickoff on Fountain Square, September 16; and a half-time performance at Wilmington College on October 4.

. . . The Band's title, "Pride of Princeton", was proven true on October 18 at the Hamilton Band-O-Rama as the Band placed second in Class A competition, while the Drill Team placed first of eight teams in their second year of competition. The following week the Drill Team took second place in pom-pon competition at Taylor High School on October 25.

. . . The Band's closing performance of the year was on May 22, Princeton Community Day at Riverfront Stadium, before the Cincinnati Reds squared off against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

A Cappella wins acceptance by audiences, OMEA judges

☐ Outstanding musical talent, sweet harmony, and downright dedication were some of the many ingredients needed to create the traditional excellence of A Cappella Choir and accompanying groups this year. . . . Once again — with exceptional directing techniques of Mrs. Joan Meier and Mr. Frederick Kennedy — members captured individual ratings of "Superior" and "Excellent" in the OMEA solo and ensemble contest at Norwood H. S. on Feb. 21 and a "Superior" rating in OMEA band and chorus competition as a group on March 21. . . . "The Singing 117" also had other challenges to face, such as a performance for the Ohio Municipal League at the Marriott Inn on Nov. 6, the yearly Community Thanksgiving Service at St. Michael's Church, Sharonville, Nov. 26; and successful performance of The Messiah — with Mr. Kennedy conducting — on Dec. 7. . . . The Choir performed in a number of other events, but the Spring Choral Concert on May 21 and a "last hurrah", singing the National Anthem before the Reds-Dodgers' game in Riverfront Stadium on May 22, wrapped up what audiences felt was a "fine year" for A Cappella, while Handbell Choir and Vocal Chamber Ensemble also won audience approval at assorted appearances within the school and local communities during 1980-1981.

Choruses bring joy to audiences through songs in their hearts

☐ With songs in their hearts and music in their heads, Choraliers, Princeton Singers and Viking Voices bought joy to audiences and honor to not only their school but also to themselves during the 1980-1981.

. . . Special honor came to Princeton High School's Choraliers. The 58-member girls chorus won an "Outstanding" rating for their performance of "I Never Saw A Moor,", "Sing Praises, Sing Praises," and "In That Great Gettin' Up Mornin'" performed at competition during spring.

. . . The male group of 38 members known as the Viking Voices received a "Superior" rating at competition. They performed such selections as "The Train," "My Love Is Like A Rose," and "Old Man Noah."

. . . These groups appeared before a variety of audiences-ranging from churches to singing in Tri-County shopping Mall and Festival of Arts in April.

PHS bands win awards as outstanding in state contest

☐ Brilliant and successful were Princeton's Symphonic and Concert bands as "Outstanding" ratings were awarded to both groups by the Ohio Music Ed. Ass'n.

. . . The seventy-six-member Princeton High School Symphonic Band won this rating with such selections for competition as "Castle Gap", "Suite Francaise", and "The Universal Judgment" in excellent performance.

. . . The annual event of performing at the Festival of Arts on April 5 was carried out after Dec. 7 found Symphonic Band playing music for Messiah and their talents were also enjoyed at the Christmas Concert on Dec. 22.

. . . Marching Band began the year here on August 29 at the football game between Princeton and Lakota.

. . . Christmas Concert on Dec. 22 was taped for cable TV before Andy Jack and Ron Pauldine were selected for All State Band, Jan. 24, in Cleveland, Ohio.

. . . Symphonic performed on April 25 for the Mill Creek Flood control project. Governor James Rhodes was the featured speaker. The year climaxed with the Outdoor Band Concert being held on May 14 -indoors because of rain- before Marching Band appeared at the Reds-Dodgers game on May 22 at Riverfront Stadium.

Triumphant year rewards bands as they perform varied music

☐ 1980-1981 was another year of individual and group performance which triumphed into what was termed a "spectacular year" for the Princeton Stage Band, Pep Band, and German Band.

. . . A busy — and exciting — winter and spring season was in store for both Stage Bands, with exceptional directing by Mr. Johnny Williams and soul-stirring solos by instrumentalists such as Damian Cremesio and Andy Jack on saxophone and Ron Pauldine and Wally Darling on trumpet, as these talented musicians contributed to success.

. . . A February 4 concert at Kemper Heights Elementary School and a March 28 appearance at the University of Dayton led the way for a stirring concert in Matthews Auditorium on April 30.

. . . Pep Band enjoyed a year of fun for members and of generous service to Princeton, as this group got the fans fired up at pep rallies, football games — supplementing Marching Band's music — and at all home basketball games in addition to a variety of appearances, such as at tapings of It's Academic in winter.

. . . Not to be left out on fun, the five-member German Band exhibited their own brand of musicianship as they played tunes of the Rhineland when German Club held its Feb. 25 banquet in the cafeteria.

Freshman Band marks 'firsts' on field, in contest

☐ The 1980-1981 year was one of firsts for Freshman Band members. As PHS students, their first concert was on December 16 — the Christmas Instrumental Exchange Concert — and their first experience marching was at Band Night on September 12. The Glendale Memorial Day Parade was their last activity of the year, and their first time marching in a parade.

. . . Other activities included marching at the Princeton — Fairfield football game on October 10 with frosh drum major Kim Lackey leading fellow freshmen across the field.

. . . They participated in the Winter Band Concert on Janaury 29 and the Festival of Arts on April 5. The Freshman Band performed at the Ice Cream Social on May 7, featuring Mike Ferguson, alto-sax soloist, who played "Sommerset".

. . . Experience and confidence gained from these performances were put to use on May 16 at the OMEA District XIV contest, when they earned an unanimous I — "Superior". One judge commented that the low brass section was the best he had heard from all bands in competition that day.

Under the direction (Opposite Page, 1) of Mr. James Chesebrough, the Freshmen Band performs at the Winter Band Concert at 7:30 p.m. on Thurs., Jan. 29.

With tubas in the background (Left, 3), freshmen perform at Band Night on Fri., Sept. 12.

Fast-paced (Left, 4) Stage Band II members include: Front Row — A. Shearer, M. Ferguson, D. Eicher, D. Cremisien, R. Hunter. Row Two — S. Allen, J. Jones, B. Johnson, D. Hayden, D. Fine. Back Row — M. Ferguson, J. Wilson, E. Steiden, K. Braam, M. Conn, M. Haines, J. Linder, G. Wyatt, J. Matejkovich, Mr. J. Williams, dir.

On stage (Below, 5) at Matthews Auditorium, Freshman Band members await their chance to play in the Winter Band Concert on Thurs., Jan. 29.

Orchestra wins top evaluation for third year in OMEA event

☐ The 61-member Orchestra consisting of brass, percussion, strings, and woodwinds opened its season with Colerain and Wyoming high schools in a festival at Colerain on Oct. 8. . . . The always-inspirational Messiah — featuring an alto solo by Mrs. Suzanne Lyon, a teacher at Princeton Junior High School on Dec. 7 — was followed by the high school solo and ensemble contest and the District Orchestra Concert. The solo and ensemble contest lasted all day on February 21 at Norwood H.S. while the District Orchestra Concert took place on March 3 . . . PHS students won 46 "Superior" and 34 "Excellent" ratings at the OMEA solo and ensemble contest, and the Orchestra won its third consecutive "I" — -"Superior" — rating in Class B. "Our students did extremely well. The music staff, parents, and teachers are very proud of these young musicians," said Mrs. Joan Meier, music coordinator of the high school and Princeton City School District.

. . . Featuring "Rhapsody in Blue", the Orchestra presented its Spring Concert on May 3 in Matthews Auditorium before the presence of these young musicians enhanced the spring musical, South Pacific, in Matthews Auditorium from May 15-17.

. . . Adding to seniors' memories of PHS, underclassmen performed for former schoolmates at the triumphant Baccalaureate ceremony on May 31, bringing 1980-1981 to a successful, productive close.

Trust

Seniors find happiness, helpfulness in friendship

☐ Friendship was something that meant a lot to each individual senior during 1980-1981-the companionship of someone on whom a person could depend in time of need, the willingness of someone to bend an ear when life's secrets weighed heavily on a person's heart.

. . . Describing friendship, Vicki Campbell said, "It is being honest, trusting each other. A friend is someone you enjoy being with, someone with whom you can share your problems and help with theirs."

. . . Beth Vogel added, "Friendship is having someone to share laughter, experiences, and adventures with and having the chance to enhance this through the years."

'Terrific'

'Reunited' makes Homecoming a memorable event for seniors

☐ "Reunited"- a popular song by Peaches and Herb stated the theme of this year's Homecoming dance as the seniors' last year quickly moved along in fall, 1980.

. . . The Homecoming dance was held in the gymnasium on Sat., Oct. 4, following the traditional football game-against Roger Bacon this year on October 3.

. . . This year's dance was, in the words of many seniors, "a great success"-an event that will remain as one of the fondest memories of many.

. . . Summing up the feelings of many seniors, Jeff Burgdorf, king, remarked, "Homecoming was a terrific time! All the participation from students and staff paid off to make it a successful and memorable event."

During one of the most memorable events each year-the Princeton Moeller football game-Chris Young and Don Fine portray the Blues Brothers in a truly enjoyable half-time performance here on Fri., Oct. 31.

Authentic

Seniors portray Blues Brothers for 12,000 fans at 'Moe' game

☐ As an audience of more than 12,000 looked on at the PHS-Moeller football game-the biggest regular-season contest of the year-seniors Don Fine and Chris Young portrayed the characters of Elwood and Jake Blues, the Blues Brothers, with a little help from the Marching Band on Fri., Oct. 31.

. . . Backed by their own personal horn section, Don and Chris-with the rendition of "Soul Man"-made this performance one of the most memorable half-time shows of the fall season.

. . . Asked how he felt about his performance, Chris stated, "We tried to do a show that we, ourselves, would have enjoyed. With this in mind, we tried to make it as authentic as possible."

Sixteen PHS seniors win praise in Merit/Achievement Programs

☐ Honor came to seniors in fall by recognition in the National Merit/Achievement Program when five semi-finalists included William Harris, Ronald Joines, David Jorgensen, Linda Speidel, and Janice Washington.

. . . Listed as commended students in the National Merit Program were Steve Bornemann, Michael Bramble, James Butler, Hun Seng Chao, Harold Hamilton, Julie Lindner, Thomas Sutton, Margaret Wischerath, and Bill Wulf, while Larita Frazier and Darryl Mitchell were commended in the National Achievement Program.

. . . Although commended students were not eligible for scholarships announced to finalists later in the school year, they were praised as being among the top five per cent of U.S. students, and Merit semi-finalists were singled out among the top one-half per cent of students in Ohio.

Joining 14 other Vikes with honor in fall, commended students in the National Achievement Program for Outstanding Negro Students are L. Frazier and D. Mitchell.

Eager as they await wording of a question during closing minutes of It's Academic taping at 3:30 p.m. on Sat., Nov. 22, Princeton's team of Keith Carney, John Landen, and Hun Seng Chao stand at 460 points on their way to 480 and a victory over Mt. Healthy, 390, and Wyoming, 180, in first-round competition.

Quick

Its Academic takes 1st round before bowing in 2nd battle

☐ With quickness and diversity as their real strength, the 1980-1981 It's Academic team opened the season with a first-round win over Mt. Healthy and Wyoming-480, 390, and 180 points, respectively-in taping at WCET Studios on Sat., Nov. 22. . . . The squad consisting of senior John Landen, capt.; senior Hun Seng Chao, junior Keith Carney and junior Cheryl Thielmeyer, alt., were compared to the 1978-1979 team, which advanced all the way to the final round, and were said to be more "laid back". However, they compensated for this relaxed approach by their aggressiveness in rounds, according to Mr. Robert Kelsch, coach. . . . While the team bowed in second-round taping on Sun., Feb. 8, with Walnut Hills and Reading, Coach Kelsch looks ahead to 1981-2 with confidence. "I'm hopeful we'll do well next year because Keith and Cherie have experience, and we're taping shows for practice once a week right now," he said during a Student Prince interview on March 13.

Halloween characters and the attendance trophy set a happy mood as seniors Paula Cole, Chester Ricks, and Sheila Price discuss business in the senior office Wed., Oct., 29.

Fright

Seniors shock underclassmen with record of attendance

☐ With the spirit of Halloween setting its distinctive mood, the seniors shocked underclassmen as they led the school in attendance and received the Attendance Trophy ten straight weeks in fall.

. . . Halloween shocked more than students, however, when the Princeton Vikes were defeated here Oct. 31 by the Moeller Crusaders, 14-13.

. . . Meanwhile, activities at PHS scared students as a few others were dressed in Halloween attire. One of them -senior Dolley Rice- commented, "I'm really glad Angie Eicher sent around a petition so that we could have a Halloween dress-up day. I really had fun with my Dolly Parton costume even though most of the reaction I received was laughter. It was just too bad that more people didn't dress up for the day after we went through so much trouble to get it. It should be continued in the years to come."

Led by senior Rob Mitter on the guitar, A Cappella Choir sings about "The Last Month of the Year" at the annual Christmas Concert held in Matthews Auditorium on Mon., Dec. 22.

Festive

Graduates join A Cappella to highlight enjoyable eve

☐ Princeton High School's outstanding A Cappella Choir finished a successful season of holiday programs with the annual Christmas Concert held in Matthews Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on Mon., Dec. 22.

. . . Following the traditional candelight procession, the group delighted the capacity crowd with songs like "Mistletoe and Love" and "What Month Was Jesus Born In?" to celebrate the festive holiday season.

. . . Following the prepared concert, graduates who had been A Cappella Choir members were invited on stage to join in singing the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah before the entire audience participated in singing the well-loved carol, "Silent Night", to wrap up an enjoyable evening for audience and choir alike.

Framed by Christmas stockings and the message of "Welcome", senior Brad Seiller holds his first-place prize-a blazing torch kit-and the metals project which won his award at the Christmas open house for parents of metals students sponsored by Mr. Bill Eaton.

Metals branch wins award for Brad Seiller at Christmas

☐ A brazing torch kit was the first-place prize won by senior Brad Seiller among 21 competitors for his project of a metal branch and leaves created in the metals class of Mr. Bill Eaton just before Christmas.

. . . Brad completed his project in approximately 20 hours during the Advanced Metals class and some additional time on his own.

. . . Projects were judged by five PHS staff members. Mr. Rick Lisi, applied arts teacher and one of the judges, explained his basis for selection, "I looked for design, craftsmanship, and degree of difficulty in deciding upon the winning project."

. . . Brad's award was presented by Mr. Eaton during a brief open house held in the metals shop from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. before the yearly Christmas concert on Mon. Dec. 22.

Spotlight shines upon Becky Lewis and Shawn Anderson as the Handbell Choir performs during the Christmas Concert at 7:30 p.m. on Mon., Dec. 22, in darkened Matthews Auditorium.

300 musicians present concert, carry tradition at Christmas

☐ Approximately 300 Princeton musicians appeared in the 1980 Christmas Concert on Mon., Dec. 22, to make this a memorable event.

. . . Choirs included A Cappella, Choraliers, and Viking Voices, joined by Symphonic Band.

. . . After A Cappella sang a composition by seniors Chris Young and Jeff Shivar-entitled "Yuletide Calling"-former A Cappella Choir members marched to the stage of Matthews Auditorium and joined in the traditional "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah.

. . . Commenting upon this emotional event, junior Geoff McCash said, "The concert was well put together. The choirs were great, and the traditional ending of the concert was very impressive."

Studying the next step, senior assistant principal, Dr. Charles Atkinson, and senior Greg Tulley examine potential movement of the senior mascot into the Main Library, on Nov. 3, during seventh period.

Senior mascot, the Falcon, flies coop at 'Moe' game

☐ The Flying Falcons' mascot flew its coop to cheer the varsity gridmen with senior spirit as the Vikes squared off against Moeller Crusaders in the final game of the 1981 regular season, which was also designated 'Senior Night'- here on Fri., Oct. 31.

. . . With a brown body and various colored wings, the Falcon stood five feet tall and sixteen feet wide, as it was led around the track at halftime.

. . . Following that excursion, the Falcon was brought up to the library, where it would rest for the remainder of the school year.

. . . "Taking somewhere around four months to construct, the Falcon proved to be a most difficult task", stated Jeff Burgdorf, senior class vice-president.

With spring

Class of '81 looks toward June when 'senioritis' takes over

☐ With the coming of spring, members of the Class of 1981 drew close to ending their final year at PHS.

. . . And with the arrival of spring, senioritis set in. This became the time when seniors began to want to see the end of the school year, when most of the major decisions of college and life after school had been made, when attendance percentage fell, and the senior count-down of days left to graduation began.

. . . Ironically, as a harbinger of spring, senior Gina King commented when warm breezes began to blow on Mon., March 23, "Our class has a terrible case of non-senioritis; our class should get busy."

Underclass

☐Readiness-the word to describe the energetic underclassmen, always on the go,
eager to tackle any job
strong to destroy any barriers between them and success
. . . prepared to make themselves proud, both in being who they are
-and prouder still of what they shall be.

Unselfish

Junior class, Year of Bulldog, shows generosity, school spirit

☐ "Excellent" was a description for the Year of the Bulldog, according to Mrs. Margaret McGinley, assistant principal, as juniors held various fund-raising events in '80-'81 for 435 members at PHS and the 210 at campuses of the Great Oaks Joint Vocational School District.

. . . Heading the class of 645 juniors for the 1980-1981 events were: Vince Collopy, pres.; Gina Andrews, v. pres.; Shelly Wood, sec.; and Tammy Dye, treas.

. . . Following PHS tradition, juniors held their annual mum sale just prior to the Oct. 3-4 Homecoming, collecting over $170 for the sale of 180 mums.

. . . When spirit ran high in October before the season-ending home game against the Moeller Crusaders, junior volunteers printed a 10-foot wall poster to wish the Vikings "Good Luck".

. . . In the latter part of November, a group of caring juniors dedicated their time to visit the Amity Convalescent Home for the elderly, bringing presents, letters, and shining warm feelings.

. . . As winter turned into spring, juniors held a "Class of '82" button sale, selling 200 buttons at 50¢ per button. "I've never worked with a nicer and unselfish group of kids", also stated Mrs. McGinley.

Thrilling

With experience in Homecoming, juniors celebrate third occasion

☐ For the third time in their years at PHS, the Class of 82 planned, attended, and participated in the excitement of a PHS Homecoming-held this year on Fri., Oct. 3, and Sat., Oct. 4. . . . The Class of '82, by popular vote, picked four of their fellow classmates to represent them in the 1980-1981 Homecoming Court, including Renee Abner, Monique Cobbs, Robert Ulliman, and Marty Waver, while foreign exchange student Christian Siedler was an honorary member. . . . Junior Robert Ulliman said later, "It was a real thrilling experience, it being my first time on the court." . . . Next year, as seniors, the Class of '82 expects to make that year's Homecoming one to remember forever-beyond walls of PHS.

Artificial plants in the cafeteria set an appropriate scene as Mrs. Margaret McGinley, 11th grade assistant principal, receives help from Alyson Squires, Evelyn Starr, Tammy Dye, and Shelly Wood preparing mums for distribution on Fri., Oct. 3, in a traditional junior project.

Enthusiastic

Juniors raise more than $198 by annual mum sale in October

☐ The Class of '82 showed their enthusiasm for Homecoming by holding the traditional mum sale. These "mums" were distributed on Fri, Oct. 3, throughout the school to both faculty and student body, alike.

. . . After ordering approximately 180 mums from the Scarlet Oaks Vocational School, the mum sale, sponsored by the junior class, was well under way. At the rate of $1.50 per mum, the Bulldogs raised over $198.00 in funds, by selling 168 while 12 were distributed to the football coaches at the Homecoming game.

. . . Although the job was a tedious one to complete, members of the junior class who participated in this event proved their ability to get a responsible task done. Junior Evelyn Starr commented, "I really had a good time; the hard work was really worth it."

. . . "These kids really put an effort into the project", added Mrs. Margaret McGinley, 11th grade asst. prin.

Throwing himself into the act, junior Steve Howard joins senior Brenda Smith and other Vocal Chamber Ensemble members as they sing "Sleigh Ride" during their segment of A Cappella Choir's half-hour appearance at Tri-County Shopping Center at 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 18.

Thrilling

Class of '82 reveals vocal talent by participation in musical activity

☐ The Class of 1982 showed its talents in music programs-participating in areas such as Marching Band, Stage Band, Orchestra, A Cappella Choir, and Vocal Chamber Ensemble.

. . . As a group of selected voices, Vocal Chamber Ensemble visited various schools and locations within the Princeton District-such as GE and Tri-County Shopping Center at Christmas time-to entertain audiences with a colorful assortment of song.

. . . Commenting upon the group's performance at Tri-County on December 18, Steve Howard said, "It was a real thrilling experience," as he and other members proved worthy of wearing the music "scarlet and gray".

Happy snowman and sparkling tinsel help establish a festive mood in the 11th grade office as Mrs. Janet Leichty, secretary, and senior Karen Beuerlein, volunteer, attend to details.

Artful

Jovial Christmas spirit flies high as juniors make decorations

☐ As the year 1980 slowly drew to a close, the Class of '82 was swept up in typical PHS Christmas spirit, by helping decorate the 11th grade office with symbols of the season. . . . Under direction of Mrs. Janet Leichty, secretary, and Mrs. Margaret McGinley, assistant principal, helpful students painted a snowman on the office's large window, which was framed with tinsel. Referring to Christmas, Mrs. Leichty said, "One of the nicest times we've had here at Princeton."

'Arrive'

Sophs sponsor dance, also sell carnations, subscriptions

☐ "They have arrived!" is the exclamation of Mr. Don Darby, ass't. principal for the sophomores, about the Class of 1983. As sophs, his students faced major projects which entailed respnsibility for the 560-member class and its leaders- Tracey Johnson, pres.; Allison Degraffenried, v. pres.; Kelly Shuck, sec.; Susan Lucan, treas.

. . . Sophomore officers and reps met during the summer to plan activities, which included their T-shirt sale, magazine subscription sale, carnation sale, and the Turnabout Dance.

. . . The magazine sale held in the fall made a profit of approximately $1800 before the Valentine carnation sale was an even better success as sophs sold a record-breaking 1742 flowers.

. . . The Turnabout Dance, held on Fri., Feb. 20, was a school-wide project that taught the sophs about planning and carrying out an event on a wide scale as approximately 200 students participated at $5.00 per couple or at $3.00 per individual.

. . . Mr.Darby concluded, commenting about the Class of 1983, "It's a good group, which has shown interest in a lot of areas. They're reaching out, and they're on their way to being upperclassmen."

Rainbow-colored streamers (Opposite Page, 1) surround juniors John Horton and Lisa Mueller as they step out onto the dance floor at the sophomore Turnabout Dance.

Valentine carnations (Opposite Page, 2) brighter the day for Andy Veldhuis when sophomores Susan Luncun, Tracey Farley, and Mike Owens distribute a few of the 1,742 flowers to be given out on Fri., Feb. 13.

Chosen especially to represent the Class of 1983 on the Homecoming court during Homecoming Week and at the dance on Sat., Oct. 4, Willie Waver, Tina Glover, Tracey Johnson, and Brent Tartar pause for a moment near one of three fountains at the dance in the PHS gym.

A dream

One newcomer joins three 'vets' as soph rep at fall Homecoming

☐ The second year for the Class of '83 to participate in Homecoming preparations and the affair itself proved to be exciting.

. . . The sophs chose "veterans" Brent Tartar, Tina Glover, Willie Waver and "rookie" Tracey Johnson to represent them on Homecoming Court during Homecoming week Sept. 30-Oct. 3 and, finally, at the Dance on Sat., Oct. 4.

. . . Brent Tartar expressed his feelings, "Homecoming is an enjoyable experience. I appreciate my classmates choosing me."

. . . Willie Waver and Tina Glover felt "happy" and "honored" to be chosen to represent their class.

. . . Tracey Johnson stated her feeling most poetically, "It was a dream that I thought could never come true."

Displaying sadness, sophomore Kara Bauer shares the mood of her winning poem, "The Sev-ered Rose", with other writers at the Young Author's reception after school on Dec. 9 in the main library.

Laudits

Kara Bauer reaches pinnacle with first in poetry competition

☐ Sophomore Kara Bauer is an active and successful member of her class. . . . She has worked on the speech team for two years and placed high in many of the competitions in the area of Humorous Interpretation. . . . She has also been involved in many theater productions including South Pacific. . . . She won the poetry contest held last fall and this is the poem that won Kara first place:

The Severed Rose
On the walk there lies a severed rose
It bleeds upon the stone.
Its red has turned to crusty gray
A dark and lonesome tone.
T'was abandoned in the heat of rage
Severed from the burn.
Left there on the walk to die
while the earth completes a turn.
On the walk there lies a severed rose and there it must remain.
For that severed bleeding flower is the love behind the pain.

Finger-lickin' good (Below) is what Mr. William Preyor's homeroom, Room 308, says about the donut reward they received on Wed. morning, Sept. 17, for having the best attendance in the previous week.

Funloving Mr. Donald Darby (Left) watches as sophomore Penny Rouff selects her donut reward as Homeroom 308 celebrates winning the sophomore attendance competition on Wed., Sept. 17.

Attendance

Sophs' homeroom competition serves an incentive during fall

☐ An innovative and active sponsor for the class of '83, Mr. Donald Darby has developed a variety of projects which proved effective and fun. One such project this year was the contest in which the homeroom with the best attendance at the end of the week received milk and donuts from Dunkin Donuts on the following Wednesday.

. . . "It's a good idea-anytime we can recognize achievement, it's good," explained Mr.Darby.

. . . The contest ran through the first semester and the record for most wins went to Ms. Gwen Williams' homeroom, Room 308.

. . . Mr. Darby found that the donut reward provided an extra benefit.

. . . "I wanted to have some fun. It's fun for me to go to the winning homeroom pushing a cart full of milk and donuts," he said.

Laughter and good conversation (Above, 1) amidst the dancing and music help everyone have a good time at the Turnabout Dance on Fri., Feb. 20.

Lady's choice (Above, 2) gives the guys something to smile about as they dance to the music of the band, "Coldspring Harbor," at the Turnabout Dance on Fri., Feb. 20.

"T and T team" (Above, 3) is what Mr. Donald Darby, sophomore assistant principal calls sophomore class president Tracey Johnson and sophomore Tracey Farley. On the afternoon of the Turnabout Dance, they are together again to decorate the gym with rainbow-colored streamers.

Soph project

Rainbow streamers decorate gym for February Turnabout Dance

☐ "It's My Turn" was the appropriate theme for the Turnabout Dance on Fri., Feb. 20, when the girls had to ask the guys.

... Rainbow streamers and paper flowers decorated the gym as couples danced to the music of the band "Coldspring Harbor".

... Although there were approximately only 90 couples, girls who asked and guys who said "yes" were glad they came.

... One important benefit was the experience sophomores got working on their first major project.

... Soph Student Council president Tracey Johnson commented, "It taught us to be a team and work together. It was good experience and helped us grow together as a class. That day of setting up and the dance itself will always be memorable."

Challenge

New friends, different classes await 622 frosh in 1981-1982

☐ As the Class of 1984 experienced the challenge of finding new friends, of studying for new classes, and of meeting different teachers, many freshmen learned about life at PHS in 1980-1981.

. . . When the 1980-81 school year began, a time for adventure and challenge creeped upon the large class of newcomers. With a total of 622 students in the class of '84, some students took the challenge one step further by running for Student Council. As soon as freshman Student Council members were picked, the Council consisting of Rochelle Williams, pres.; Tracy Kidd, v. pres.; Margie Jones, sec.; and Susanne Rhodes, treas., decided to get things rolling.

. . . As in every year, the traditional Freshman Frolic brought classmates together in the gym and cafeteria for basketball, swimming, volleyball and a dance. Held Jan. 16, the event drew approximately 70 members of the class this year.

. . . The next project for freshmen was the annual T-shirt sale. From this event, the freshmen made approximately $25 profit by sale of about 100 shirts late in winter and early in spring

. . . Mr. Harrell Griffin, freshman assistant principal, commented about the class, "We've made a very enthusiastic beginning to what should be a very exciting three more years."

Chosen by the freshman class of '84 for the 1980-81 Homecoming Court of this year's Homecoming Dance, held Oct. 4, are Thadeus Stevenson, Tracy Kidd, Jennifer Nue, and Ronnie Williams.

Stunned

Frosh represented at Homecoming during their first year at PHS

☐ This year's freshmen -the Class of 1984-were represented at the 1980-1981 Homecoming dance held on Sat., Oct. 4, in the gym, by four of their classmates. . . . These Homecoming representatives -Tracy Kidd, Thad Stevenson, Jennifer Nue, and Ronnie Williams-expressed their feelings on being chosen. "I was stunned and Surprised," commented Tracey Kidd. "I really enjoyed the dance, and I am proud to represent the freshman class," stated Ronnie Williams. . . . Jennifer Nue summed up the feelings of all by stating, "We are all proud to represent our class at Homecoming events."

The sign tells it all for the Class of '84 at the annual Freshman Frolic-as approximately 75 frosh enjoyed a night of dancing, sports, and competition.

Traditional Freshman Frolic gets crowd of 75 for a good time

☐ The Class of '84 got together for the traditional frolic on Fri., Jan 16, when about 75 freshmen attended the events -ranging from swimming to diving, volleyball to basketball, and dancing, in between.

. . . Contests held in various activities were won by Jim Hamm, free throw; Wyndell Smith, ping-pong; Gayle Washington and Lola Howard, swimming.

. . . Refreshments provided by the freshman Student Council and Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of Cincinnati, helped in making the frolic a success as freshmen got to meet each other, make new friends, and become acquainted with their counselors and assistant principal, Mr. Harrell Griffin.

. . . While the event was not conducted to make money, the class added $126.50 to its treasury, and Mr. Griffin stated, "I'd like to have seen more students participate. However, those who did were enthusiastic and had a good time."

With a smile to greet her classmates (Above, 1), Carol Perry sits comfortably at the entrance of the gym, for this year's Freshman Frolic, held Fri., Jan. 16.

As usual for the Freshman Frolic every year (Above, 2), the pool is open to the freshmen to cool off, relax, and have a good time.

Watching patiently (Above, 3), Don Wothe keeps tally during the basketball free-throw contest at the Freshman Frolic, as Alex Higdon shoots for points.

Preparing to help freshmen adjust to life at PHS, "Freshmen Innerchange" participants meeting in Room 514-515 on Thurs. morning, Aug. 21, include Mrs. Dorothy Mc Cann, sophomore Luc Shah, and senior Dan Lovelace.

No less

'Innerchange' helps frosh meet life in high school

☐ A new idea this year to get freshmen involved in activities and to make them "feel at home" in the high school was in full swing during fall as a result of meetings held during the week before classes began in August. . . . Students consisting of seniors, juniors, and sophomores-with PHS staff members-met twice a month with freshmen to let them know about different activities and help them become a part of PHS through sessions called "Freshmen Innerchange". . . . Commenting upon the program, freshman Lori Lindsay said, "The meetings helped me and other freshmen not to be so scared around the high school. The way they put ideas to us made us realize that just because we are freshmen we're not inferior or any less than seniors."

Faculty

☐Seldom thought of by the students, faculty and staff deserve credit for time spent in Vikes' behalf, making their lives better and easier and enhancing the realizing of dreams for the future.

With an expression of concern (Left, 4), head football coach Mr. Pat Mancuso watches at the PHS-Moeller game at Nippert Stadium on Fri., Nov. 7 as PHS falls 28-3.

Put on hold (Opposite Page, 1), the PHS switchboard awaits arrival of the receptionist before the beginning of another busy day.

With present

Board, Central Office combine concern for future and past events

☐ Princeton's Board of Education and Central Office staff combined careful attention to the future with nostalgic interest in the past amid present challenges in '80-'81.

. . . Looking ahead, the CO staff sponsored a "futuristic conference" on the Oct. 10 inservice day, covering a range of challenges from energy to the social/economic order of the 1980's and 1990's.

. . . Also concerned about future progress of the District, two committees began in-depth, 5-year studies on tax levies, budget, and building use, while the staff set up a TV station at the Junior H.S. in spring to begin district-wide programming and to interract with expanding Warner Cable TV.

. . . With interest in past events to celebrate the District's 25th anniversary, a staff committee's work ranged from designing a logo for stationery to setting up a theme for the Festival of Arts and preparing a history for TV, while the Board approved sale of Princeton Valley East to Lincoln Heights for $225,000 on Oct. 29 in a necessary adjustment to declining enrollment.

. . . Meanwhile, CO staff oversaw construction in summer, 1980, of new locker rooms, a press box, and a scoreboard at the high school, before completion of a bus garage at the Junior H.S. in spring.

. . . Strengthening performance, CO staff upgraded computer and economics study and oral/written expression, K-12, while piloting a program in math, K-8; and the Board encouraged community interest by scheduling regular meetings in all elementary schools.

. . . While improving salaries, hospitalization and life insurance programs, the Board also added a dental plan for employees, as the CO implemented a system to evaluate principals, supervisors, and CO administrators.

School Board members (Opposite Page, 5) for 1980-'81 include: Front Row-Mrs. C. Gough, v. pres.; Mr. J. Mitchell, pres. Back Row-Mr. C. Friedman, Dr. W.C. Wyder, Mr. G.M. Lippert.

In candid discussion (Above, 6), Dr. Richard Denoyer exchanges views with students on his Superintendent's Advisory Council during a mid-morning meeting in the conference room here on Wed., Jan. 7.

"I, Jerry Mitchell . . ." (Above, 7) are words spoken as Mrs. Ruth Crockett, treasurer, gives Mr. Jerry Mitchell, president of the Board, his oath of office on Mon., Jan. 5, at the organizational meeting.

Watching over students (Left,8), Dr. Richard Denoyer and his wife enjoy a night out at Homecoming in the high school gym on Sat., Oct. 4.

"A man's work is never done!" (Right, 2), is the message as Mr. James Neal, building manager, watches over the switchboard on Dec. 23 while secretaries have their picture taken at 8:15 a.m.

Administrators, counselors move with grades, greet incoming frosh

☐ While grade-level administrators and counselors "moved up" with their respective classes, Mr. Harrell Griffin, Mrs. Francis Glover, and Mr. Don Wothe greeted the incoming freshmen after seeing their "charges" of four years graduate in June, 1980.

. . . Meanwhile, Mr. Gil Braun, soph counselor, was co-ordinator of OCIS -Ohio Career Information System- connected with a computer in the guidance center, through which information on almost any occupation was obtained. This year, Mr. Braun helped over 870 people.

. . . Throughout the year, the counselors assisted students and parents in matters such as school/ job conflicts, social adjustments, and career choices.

. . . While Miss Mary V. Meyer provided scholarship information to seniors, Mr. Ivan Reynolds, also a senior counselor, was in charge of setting up college conferences-scheduling 117+ meetings with college reps from all over the U.S. These conferences helped students make necessary decisions about attending college after high school.

. . . In an annual project, Mrs. Margaret McGinley made two afghans to show her appreciation to staff of her grade level and of the entire school at Christmas. Winners' names drawn from a hat were Mr. Jerry Jaspers and Mr. Dave Bach-recipients of colorful works of art containing 60 ounces of yarn, measuring 52" x 72", and requiring more than 60 hours of work each.

Casual (Above 1), Dr. Charles Atkinson, 12th grade ass't. prin., observes activities at the flea market held in the lobby on Sat., Oct. 11.

Doughnuts and milk (Above, 2) awarded to soph homeroom 306 for best attendance are being shared by Mr. Don Darby, soph ass't. prin.; Mrs. Diana Sroufe, Mr. Gil Braun, Mrs. Juanita Lovelace, and Mr. Bill Pryor on Wed., Sept. 17, at 7:45 a.m.

Talent

PHS teachers bring magic to music and mathematics

☐ Illustrating the range of talent among PHS teachers, Mr. Fred Kennedy and Mr. Bill Pryor showed distinctively different abilities in '80-'81 that carried past success into their present performance. . . . Choral teacher here for seven years and director for the December 7 Messiah concert this year, Mr. Kennedy has brought to his work a variety of professional experience. A graduate of CCM, he sang with the Cincinnati Opera Co., 1967-1973. May Festival, 1974-1975, the Orchestra of Brazil, 1976, and Sante Fe Opera Co., 1976. . . . Concurrently this year, Mr. Pryor entertained math classes and other groups with his bag of tricks. A magician for 35 years and owner of Bill's MagiCorner, he is also the creator of 15 successful card tricks-with three new ones this year-marketed internationally by the Supreme Magic Co., Bideford, Devon County, England.

Trusty baton (Opposite Page, 1) helps Mr. Fred Kennedy draw melodious notes from Choraliers during practices in Matthews Auditorium on Fri., Dec. 19.

Three pieces of rope (Opposite Page, 2) change length under the magic touch of Mr. Bill Pryor as he entertains Mr. Dick Chiara, Josten's American Yearbook Co. representative, Shawn Pan, Joe Wambach, Luc Shah and DeAnna Jones in Room 108 after school on Wed., Jan. 21.

"Blow Moe away" (Left) was the cheer led by Mr. John Hillard during the sixth-period pep rally on Fri., Oct. 31, when more than 2,000 Vikings met on the front lawn.

"Stomping on the Moeller Crusader" (Below), Mr. Al Watson leads faculty skit during two indoor pep rallies in Matthews Auditorium on Fri., Nov. 7.

Spirit . . .

Staff members lead PHS students in two 'old-time' pep rallies

☐ Spirit found old-time expression during fall when staff members joined students in support of Viking gridmen throughout two separate rallies before games with "Big Moe" at the season's end.

. . . In a 2:00 p.m. outdoor pep rally on the front lawn before the final game of the regular season -on Fri., Oct. 31- Mr. John Hillard urged Princeton fans to "blow Moe away", while varsity football coach, Pat Mancuso, and PHS principal, Dr. William E. Steiden, added words of encouragement to the squad.

. . . However, the disheartening loss, 14-13, on Viking turf that night could not dampen exuberant staff spirit as more than a dozen joined in expressing talent and ingenuity for two indoor rallies the following Friday, November 7, in Matthews Auditorium.

. . . With Mr. Richard Lisi as emcee, teachers and administrators in cheers and skits slew "Big Moe" and burried the Crusader to delight of students.

Grateful

Staff entertains, raises $2,000 for scholar fund by musical ☐ Billed as "an uproariously funny comedy", Once Upon a Mattress brought delight to parents, staff, and students when the cast and chorus of the musical play sang and danced into hearts of audiences in Matthews Auditorium on Nov. 20, 21, and 22.

. . . Just as important as the entertainment, however, was the profit of approximately $2,000 raised by this district-wide staff musical for the Princeton City Scholarship Fund.

. . . Speaking on behalf of "all those who participated", retired PHS math teacher, Mr. George McNeal, wrote in Odin's Word, March 10, 1981, "Your acceptance of our humble efforts was so noticed that many of those participating . . . wanted to make sure you got the word . . . Thank you again."

Spotlighted in spacious Matthews Auditorium, keynote/general session speaker David Pearce Snyder, chief of information services, Internal Revenue Service, reviews "Watersheds: The Next Ten Years in America" during the October 10 inservice day for school district staff.

Future

Inservice day prepares staff to foresee needs of students

☐ PHS staff-with members of the District-glimpsed the future when they attended an inservice day program, "A Look at the Future: Implications for Instruction", on Fri., Oct. 10, this year.

. . . Following a morning general session outlining important trends for the next ten years, staff members attended three sessions within a series of 18 different hour-long programs ranging in topics from business, cable TV, and the changing role of education to human development, space transportation, and rationalized lifestyles in U.S.

. . . Purposes and value of the one-day program were outlined. by Dr. Richard A. Denoyer, superintendent, when he wrote to staff members on Sept. 10, ". . . our school district is attempting to learn as much as we can about the future . . . to stay in tune with students' needs."

Dedication

Staff an students work together in after-school, weekend projects.

☐ Beyond the confines of classrooms, PHS staff members dedicated their time to meeting a variety of students' needs in many different ways. . . . More than a dozen clubs gave staff and students a chance to have fun together, to get to know each other and to share responsibility in developing programs of interest to the group. . . . While members also spent their own time on students' behalf through instruction here after school and by field trips, teachers worked with students behind the scenes of the school plays, devoting much time and effort in bringing these plays into successful production. . . . "It is a great opportunity for both the students and staff to be able to work together outside as well as inside of the classroom setting, share ideas and work toward another common goal," according to Mrs. Lisa Hemphill, English teacher who was the technical director for the fall children's play, Wizard of Oz.

Outside interests

Faculty members involve selves by serving community, state, schools, churches and variety of organizations

☐ Many Princeton teachers took part in activities outside of school, as some taught at colleges, some served on boards, while others took part in community organizations.

. . . Involved in local schools, Mrs. Terrie Neufarth was a part-time instructor at Southern Ohio College and Mr. Don Elmore taught at SW Business College, and Mr. Bill Eifert was an adjunct instructor of math at U.C. and P.E.A. v. pres. Mr. Carl Buzan was asst. prof. of engineering at Miami, while Mr. Rick Lisi taught electronics there.

. . . Serving communities were Mr. Homer Evans-Lions Club morale officer and training officer for the Ross Vol. Fire Dept.; Mr. John Hillard-Woodlawn Rec. Comm., State Evaluation Comm.; Mr. Hayward Ball-Middletown Audubon Society board mem.; Mr. Mike Grote-mem. Deerfield Union Local Schools school board, consultant of the State Dept. of Ed. and mem. of the Division of Vocational and Technical Ed.; Mr. Jerry Jaspers-in his 15th yr. as a mem. of the CYO athletic brd. and CYO of Greater Cin. Football Commissioner; Mr. Francis Byrnes-pres. of the North Sycamore Youth Organ.; and Mr. Joe Phillips-ass't. emergency coordinator of Amateur Radio Public Service Corps of Hamilton Co.; helped create a safe, healthy environment for everyone to live in by performing these duties.

. . . Dr. Charles Atkinson and Mr. Don Wothe both serve their churches. Dr. Atkinson is the choir director at the Atonement Lutheran Church in Springdale while he is also the adjudicator of the Ohio Music Ed. Assn. Mr. Wothe is the Sunday School Supt. at the Tri-County Baptist Church, also in Springdale. They both helped to organize the Fellowship of Christian Educators.

. . . In addition to community services teachers are also involved in programs related to their own field. Mrs. Phyllis Barton, Mrs. Joan Miracle, Mr. David McClung, Mrs. Dorothy McCann, and Mrs. Marjorie Williams were hosts for the 70th annual convention of the National Council of Teachers of English, while Mr. Joe Phillips and Mr. David Schiller supervised newspaper and radio/TV publicity.

. . . Also in language arts are Mrs. Anita Ray-mem. of Articulation and Curriculum Comm. of the Ohio Modern Lang. Teachers Assn.; Mr. Henry Ziegler-nat'l pres. of the National High School Slavic Honor Society, mem. of the board of directors of the Amer. Teachers of Russian and the Mid-West Slavic Conference. He was also pres. of the Ohio Chapter of the Amer. Assn. of Teachers of Slavic and East European Languages, chairman of the U.S. Olympiada Comm. of spoken Russian, and the U.S. rep. for the International Olympiada Committee.

. . . Serving within SW Ohio, Mr. David Kirkendall-rehearsal accomp. for the Vocal Arts Ensemble of Cin.; Mrs. Jessica Rankins-speaker at OMEA Convention; Mr. William Imhoff-chairman of the Ohio program for Review, Improvement, Development, and Expansion in Vocational Ed.; Mrs. Barbara Paulson-chairman of the Dist. Alumnae for Alpha Phi Int. Frat.; showed their talents this past year as professionalism was enhanced by community involvement in these many ways throughout 1980-1981.

Daily

Operational staff keeps Princeton running smoothly in 1980-81

☐ Servicing 41 schools and traveling over 326 routes each day, bus drivers used 900 gallons of gas hauling 6,500 students. When drivers competed in the transportation evaluation contest at Warren County Vocational School, Darlene Behne won 1st in the Hamilton District and 30th for the entire state.

. . . Cafeteria employees reported at 6:00 a.m. daily to prepare food for approximately 1,000 students, who consumed 1,900 milks, 75 malts, 300 pounds of french fries daily, while eating 400 pounds of hamburger weekly and 1,300 pizzas on the days when they were served.

. . . Going practically unnoticed, efficient secretaries/aides helped keep PHS in top-notch condition; and while cleaning 200+ rooms daily, the custodial crew kept everything tidy for students and staff throughout the building.

Hood on the 1950 Ford donated by Dolly Rice's father, Edwin, is an unusual seat for Student Council members-junior Michele Siglowski and senior Diane Ishida-at the second annual flea market in the high school lobby, Sat., Oct. 11.

2nd annual

PHS flea market raises $300 for seniors, juniors

☐ Students and parents participated in the second annual flea market here on Sat., Oct. 11, to make this year's event a "modified success" as profits totalling $300-compared to $650 during the first annual event in September 1979-were divided between the junior and senior classes.

. . . "I felt that the flea market wasn't as successful as we had hoped it would be, although I feel that this was a good idea and an excellent way for all four classes to work together on a school-wide project," stated Dr. Charles Atkinson, senior class assistant principal.

. . . Commenting upon the flea market as an unique fund raiser here this year, junior Susan Faust concluded, "I feel that the flea market was a success because it was school spirit working together for a good cause."

Drama tool

Cooperative effort needed for all activities

☐ With a great variety of activities open to PHS students throughout 1980-1981, the PHS Theater Department was no exception, premiering the season with the children's play The Wizard of Oz. Performances were held October 23, 24, 25, and 26 for the public and all elementary schools in the district.

. . . Since a great deal of work went into this production and others, the success of plays was dependent on a great many people, both on stage and off.

. . . Observing the need for this cooperation, junior Mary Anne Sellers said, "Without the crew, the actors would be performing on a bare stage."

The person behind this frightening mask — good-hearted freshman Glenn Stepp-has volunteered during the past four years in Q-102's Haunted House to benefit St. Rita's School for the Deaf.

To help

Glenn Stepp volunteers in effort for St. Rita's

☐ For the past 4 years, freshman Glenn Stepp has worked at the Q-102 Haunted House, in Sharonville, behind St. Rita's School for the Deaf.

. . . Commenting upon his volunteer effort this past year — when he worked 10 nights straight at about 6 hours per night — he said, "It's fun and worth it because you're helping others, too."

. . . He plans to continue working at the Haunted House in the years to come.

. . . About 90 volunteers showed up throughout a ten-day period, serving various numbers of hours each day. They raised approximately $12,000-$17,000 to help St. Rita's serve children from local communities and around the country.

A Union of service, solidarity and brotherhood.

Recognizing that education is the apprenticeship of life, we commend Princeton High School for its excellence in the preparation of our youth.

In the end, the survival of any society depends on its ability to create successive groups of mature adults who are commited to its major traditions. Those traditions include the production of goods and services to sustain the young, the aged, and the ill; the maintenance (through taxes and military services) of a necessary defense establishment; the persistence of a decent level of public order; and the commitment of citizens to constructive community and political activities to sustain the country.

A Friend of Princeton

Thoughtful, 18 selected social studies students join Mr. Bill Brandenburgh and Odin's Word editors Faren Abrams and Merri-Jo Gratsch in a telephone "conference call' to their representative in Washington, Wills D. Gradison, during third period on Tues., March 31.

By phone

Social Studies students contact Rep. Gradison

☐ Perceptive Princeton students could see application of local government in their lives by the variety of services offered through municipalities within the school district during 1980-1981.

. . . However, 18 social studies students nominated by teachers had a special opportunity to learn about the federal government when they participated in a 45-minute "conference call" to Willis D. Gradison, representative in Washington, during third period on Tues., March 31.

. . . Topics ranged from public assistance. Social Security and health to national defense and the assassination attempt the day before on the life of President Ronald Reagan.

. . . "Questions were interesting, and answers were complete. He really related to the students," said senior Merri Jo Gratsch.

. . . Mr. Bill Brandenburgh, social studies teacher and sponsor for the event, added, "This (conference call) gives students a chance to interact with their congressman on important issues and to learn about the interworkings of Congress, itself."

Juniors Sheila Hickey and Lisa Armstrong practice health care techniques at Scarlet Oaks on Mon., Oct. 20.

Skill

Vikings at Great Oaks learn career trades

☐ While most of the students at Princeton were planning to go on and continue their education, most of the students at the Great Oaks Vocational schools planned to go straight to work. At Scarlet, these students were taught the skills which they will need in their particular careers.

. . . Students at Scarlet started in their junior year after completing their required classes at their base school. They were still considered students at Princeton and were eligible for all extracurricular activities. After completing their two-year program, they graduated at Princeton.

Princeton students enjoy range of sports, hobbies

☐ Whether the Vikings were competing in interscholastic sports or just practicing on the golf course during the 1980-1981 school year, they had a wide range of opportunities available to them. . . . They could visit any one of their favorite sports or hobby shops for equipment or go to Golden Tee for a little more practice before one of their meets or just to enjoy the game.

FINALLY, A GREAT JAPANESE PRODUCT MADE IN AMERICA.

At Benihana of Tokyo, we prepare great American favorites — like specially selected fillets, sirloins, chicken and shrimp — according to a 1000 year old Japanese recipe.

And we prepare them right at your table. So you can watch every move we make. But then, watching a Benihana chef in action is part of the enjoyment of eating here.

His flashing knife can turn a sizzling steak into an oriental masterpiece. His razor-sharp blades slash through fresh succulent shrimp, zing through boneless breasts of chicken, clip crisp, fresh bean sprouts, mushrooms and onions into slender mouth-watering slivers.

Join us. For lunch or dinner. When it comes to great American favorites, our Japanese chefs really know their onions.

'Eat out'

Range of restaurants offers delight to Vikes

☐ "Eating out" was another enjoyable activity Princeton students found during the 1980-1981 school year. . . . Many chose just to grab a hamburger and a "Coke" from their favorite fast-food restaurant after a night from yelling at football games or during a welcome break from long hours of play rehearsal, while others chose to learn a lesson in "dining out" before Homecoming or Sadie Hawkins dances — at one of the many fine restaurants available to them in the Princeton District.

During the summer improvements to the football stadium, Pepsi Cola employee Rick Gerbhardt draws the design for Viking head on the new scoreboard on Tues., Aug. 21.

Unique

New scoreboard flashes as Vikes punch points

☐ During the summer of 1980, Princeton High School received a new scoreboard, donated by the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company. . . . The scoreboard is the only one of its kind in the area high schools. It is completely electronic and has a programmable sound device which enables the school to make up its own "tune" to play when the home team scores. . . . On the left side, there is a Viking head, with a series of lights around it. When the Vikes score, the lights flash and the scoreboard sounds to let everyone know the team hit pay dirt.

Businesses offer service as Vikes seek careers

☐ Commercial and personal care businesses throughout the Princeton District offered a variety of services to meet personal needs of Vikings during 1980-81.

. . . At the same time, 364 students — including 154 seniors and 210 juniors — prepared themselves for specific careers throughout the course of study at Great Oaks Joint Vocational School District campuses. Career training ranged from cosmetology to diesel mechanics.

With hands behind her back, senior Becky Lewis shows how it should be done when she participates in the ice cream eating event during the early-May senior "Spirit Week."

'Good'

Seniors 'show off' in May spirit week

☐ When spring fever caught hold in full during the first week of May, seniors showed unusual pep in a fun-filled "Spirit Week" — with a balloon toss, big-wheel race, frisbee throw, and ice cream eating event.

. . . This particular week drew attention from underclassmen, as well as seniors — outdoing poor participation in "Nerd Day", "Punk Rock Day", "50's Day", "Pajama Day", and "Red and Greg Day" during winter doldrums from February 4-6.

. . . Enthusiastic about the spring events for senior "Spirit Week", junior Amy Shearer observed, "I think it's good because it gives the seniors a chance to show off. It's their last year of school, and they should show off."

Pride

Effort rewards Vikes who give service

☐ Service came in many ways to Princeton students during 1980-1981 as they benefited from dedication and generosity of classmates who were willing to "knock heads" in practice on the football field, drill in cadence on the band's marching area, or volunteer their time in after-school club activities.

. . . But those willing Vikes who gave their time gained something, too — the satisfaction in looking at a job well done, a sense of participation in a worthwhile effort.

. . . Commenting upon service by publications staff students, Mr. Jack Donnelly, adviser, said, "They have created works which will live as long as someone has a copy of the newspaper or yearbook. Those students who put forth conscientious effort have built a base for personal pride which no one will ever be able to take away from them."

In Memoriam

Jennifer Lynn Hoskins

Sept. 3, 1963-May 2, 1981

Someone should have said it a long time ago.
When you were young.
Someone should have said, this living . . .
. . . this life . . .
. . . this lifetime . . .
It doesn't last forever.
A few days, a few minutes . . . that's all.
It has an end.
This face.
These hands.
This word.
It doesn't last forever.
This air.
This light.
This earth.
These things you love.
These children.
This smile.
This pain.
It doesn't last forever.
It was never supposed to last forever.
This day.
This morning.
This afternoon.
This evening.
These eyes . . .
These things you see.
It's pretty.
These things you hear.
This noise.
This music.
They tell you you're dying, and you say all right. But if I am dying

I must still be alive.
These things you have.
This smell, this touch.
This taste.
This breath.
This moment.

Sentiments drawn from dialogue in The Shadow Box by Michael Christofer

Words of appreciation

☐ Editors and staff members of the 1980-1981 Student Prince — Ascension express appreciation to many people — in particular to Mr. Dick Chiara, representative for Josten's/American Yearbook Company, especially for his weekly visits while Mr. Jack Donnelly, adviser, was hospitalized and recuperating from surgery from March 30 to May 18; to Mr. Neil Alley, substitute teacher in Mr. Donnelly's absence; to Mrs. Mary Barrows, in-plant consultant for Josten's/American Yearbook Company, for conscientious, special assistance, and to members of the Production Department of Josten's American Yearbook Company, Clarksville, Tenn., for their careful attention to detail in the preparation of this book; to members of Rob Paris Studio for photographic service throughout the year; to Princeton High School and Central Office staff members for their help and moral support throughout 1980-1981; to Keisha Hunter for sketching a Christmas message, which was ditto-mastered in blue, green, and red and sent to advertisers and to Princeton staff members; to Mr. James Snow for special help in conducting the subscription sales campaign, arranging for pictures, and obtaining information at campuses of the Great Oaks Joint Vocational School District; and to Rita Neeley, Mary Sears, and Mary Ann Sellers for typing index pages after the end of the school year.

Explanation about statistics

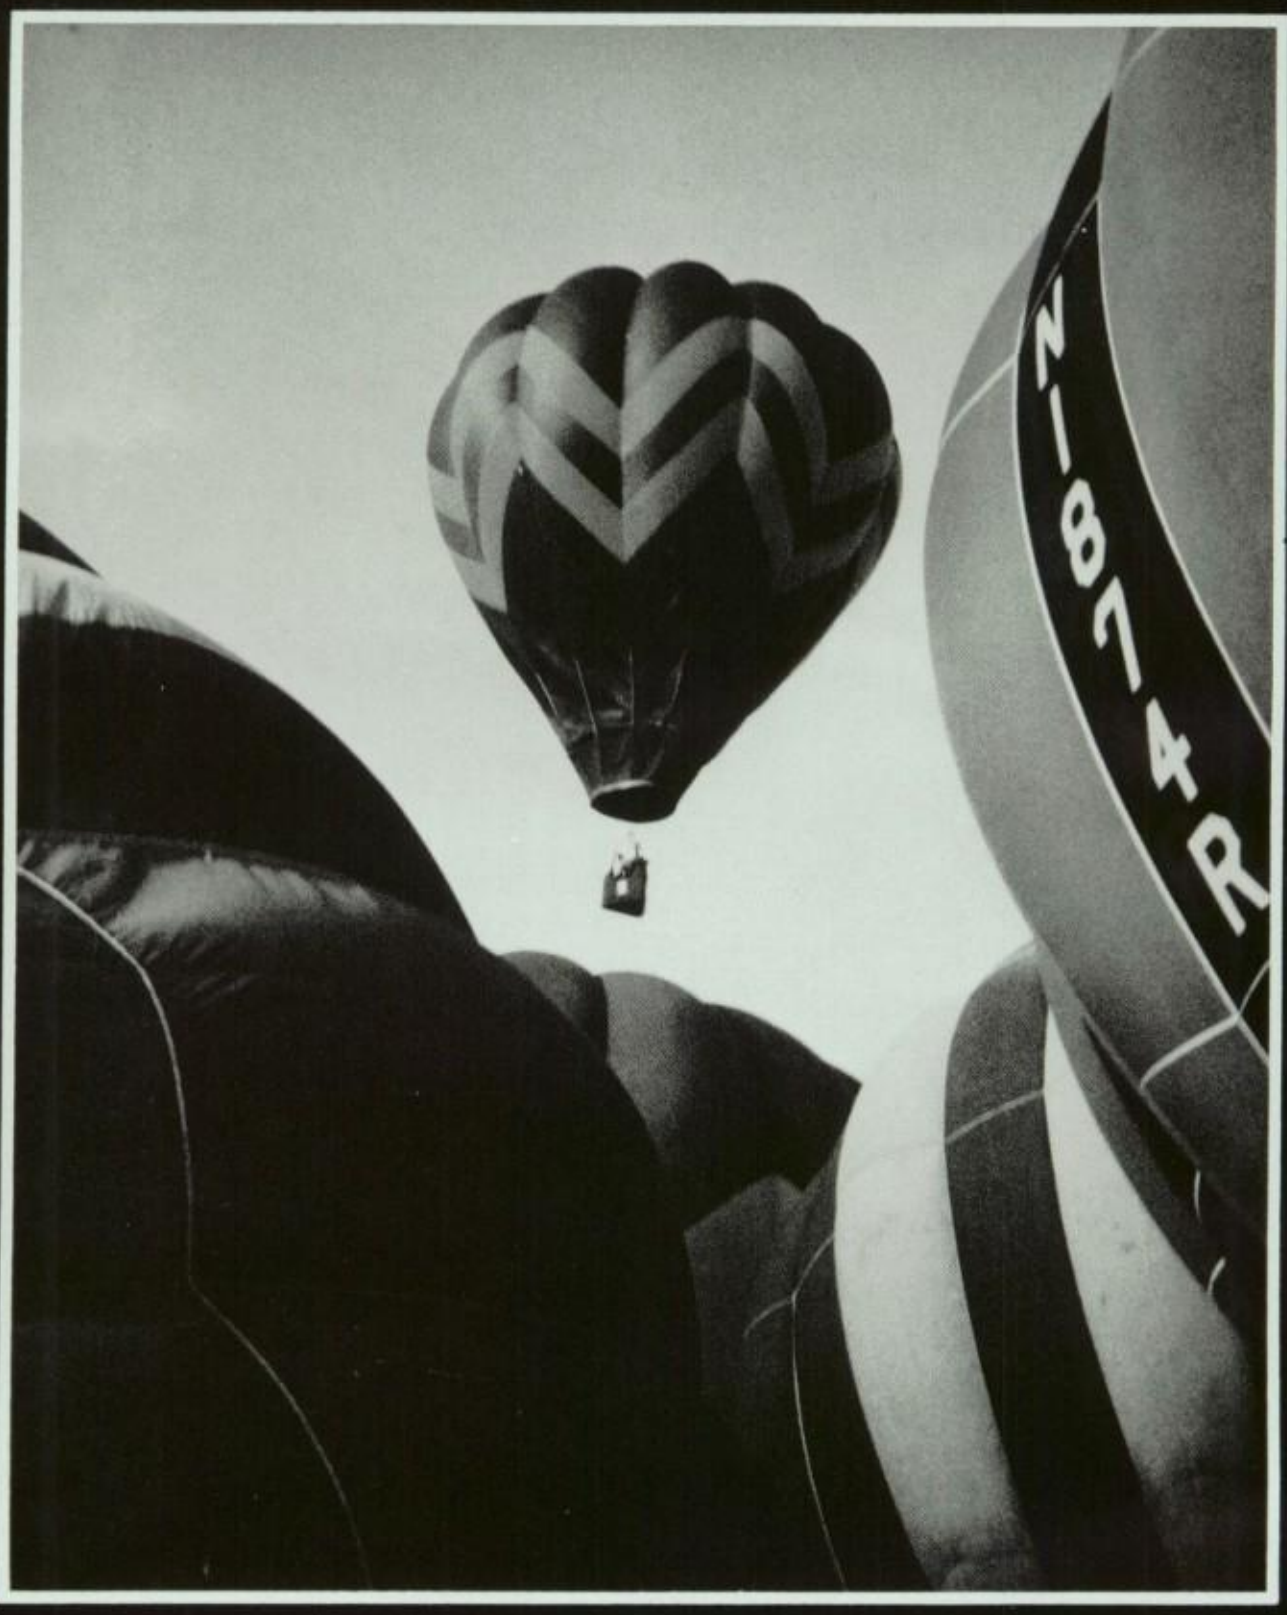
☐ Enrollment figures by grade level within Princeton High School and Great Oaks Career Development Centers were obtained from Mrs. Stella Koehler, registrar, and are the student count on Tuesday, October 28, 1980. Enrollment figures by classes and numbers of courses within specific subject areas used by the Academic Section — pages 50-75 — are figures from the first quarter of the 1980-1981 school year reported by Mrs. Carolyn Ruley, associate principal; these figures are reasonably representative of enrollment in courses throughout the year, although grade-level and class count naturally vary as students transfer in and out of Princeton, move up in grade level, or leave school in January as seniors upon completion of graduation requirements. A specific example of this transfer process appears within the block at the end of the senior section on page 199. The Student Prince depended upon computer run-off lists by grade level effective on October 28, 1980, which were provided by the Central Office Data Processing staff, based upon information given by grade level offices. These computer lists were the basis for placement of students by grade level within the 1980-1981 Student Prince and for lists of students not pictured found on pages 199, 209, 217, and 225. The Student Prince staff thanks Mrs. Koehler, Mrs. Ruley, and all others for their help in obtaining this information.

Tidbits on typography

☐ With a wide choice of type available for this yearbook, The Student Prince — Ascension has body copy set in 10-point Helvitica on 12-point lines, while captions appear in 8-point Helvitica set on 9-point lines. Main headlines are in 24-point Helvitica set on 24-point lines; "kicker" headlines appear in 48-point Helvitica; and division page label heads appear in 42-point Helvitica Italic. Page numbers — folio tabs — appear in 10-point Helvitica, while special-effect type found on the cover includes "rub-on" letters prepared by Mr. Dick Chiara, yearbook representative. The cover was run in four-color process on the 150-point board, and 965 copies of the book were printed on 80-bound enamel, glossy paper at the Clarksville, Tenn., plant of Josten's/American Yearbook Company.

Services for evaluation

☐ The Student Prince staff of Princeton High School, 11080 Chester Road, Cincinnati, Ohio, 45246, maintains membership in the two nationally recognized critical evaluation services: The National Scholastic Press Association, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, 55414; and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, Columbia University, New York, 10027. Even though the yearbook is entitled The Student Prince, each year's edition is subtitled to reflect the theme for that year-Ascension, in 1980-1981, a theme suggested by Karen Beuerlein and determined by editors early in September 1980, after students returned to school from summer vacation.



☐ Ascension
— rising to the top —
gave perspective to life,
meaning to education, and respect to friendship during 1980-1981.
. . . As all Princeton students made their way through high school, they strived to rise above the challenges met
— to become "Number One", as the memories of the year spent here are entrusted to eternity in this Student Prince of 1980-1981.

. . . finding a spirit of pride in Learning from experience throughout 1980-1981, their personal accomplishments, Princeton students look to their future as they hope ever to move onward and upward.
